SAUSALITO SANDSTORM

Merchants Fight No-Parking Rules

By PAT ANGLE

A group of Sausalito merchants, afraid the city's sandbagging of a two-block portion of Bridgeway will ruin downtown business, met today to plot strategy to force removal of the sacks.

The sandbags were placed on both sides of the street, between Princess and Anchor streets Monday, to eliminate all parking in the area, a move city officials say is designed to improve the looks and cleanliness of the downtown.

Officers and directors of a newly organized merchants' group, the Sausalito Businessman's Association — organized around the symbol of the hated sandbag — met today to talk with their attorney and make plans for a mass protest of the parking ban at the city council's Tuesday night meeting at Central School.

They complained the city's action has already caused "very serious" income losses to businesses located on the sandbagged part of the street.

Frederick S. Mayer, owner of Sausalito Rexall Pharmacy, said his store has lost about $300 a day since Monday. "Ninety-five per cent of our business is from folks who live in town, not tourists," Mayer said, "and they just aren't coming in; they are not going to walk a block or two and pay 50 cents for parking to pick up their prescriptions."

On a wry note, a number of downtown stores sported signs in their windows yesterday reading, "free sandbags."

Robert D. Bauerle, co-owner of Brotman's Gift Shop and acting president of the new association, said the merchants will ask the council to remove the bags immediately "and start from scratch."

The businessmen are suggesting the no-parking zone be replaced by 15-minute parking, interspersed with yellow loading zones for deliveries. Some have complained delivery trucks have been unable to deliver merchandise only in loading ones on side streets during morning hours — in accordance with new city regulations.

This morning, a number of trucks had ignored the ban and were double-parked outside the sandbag barricades on Bridgeway, making it difficult for autos to pass on the narrow street.

Sally Stanford, owner of the Valhalla inn and vice president of the group, suggested that owners of all vehicles who receive parking tickets because of the ban demand jury trials. "That'll fix them," she said, referring to the city.

Bauerle said the city has been presented with petitions signed by more than 500 persons, collected last week in an attempt

KENNEDY BIRTHDAY REMEMBERED

Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., places a flower on the grave of his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy, in Arlington Memorial Cemetery today, observing the day on which the president would have been 53. Among others visiting the grave were Mrs. Evelyn Lincoln, Kennedy's former secretary; President Richard M. Nixon's aide, Daniel Moynihan, and Sen. Kennedy's wife, Joan. Senator Kennedy placed a flower on the nearby grave of his other slain brother, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Federal Tax Boost Fear Is Scuttled

High Source Rules Out Election Year Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon administration will not propose additional taxes this election year even if the deficit in the federal budget soars to $5 billion, a high-ranking administration official said today.

He said that if the economy remains sluggish, such a deficit would be "acceptable."

The administration's latest formal estimate places the deficit for the fiscal year beginning July 1 at $1.3 billion.

An emergency tax request would surely result if spending exceeds income by $10 billion to $15 billion, the official said. He said no decision has been made on the action to be taken if the budget runs into the red by between $5 billion and $10 billion.

In other developments Thursday, a day in which the stock market rose another 20 points for the best two-day advance in history:

—Commerce Secretary Maurice N. Stans said the administration is adamantly opposed to price and wage controls. He said the economy is strong and he looks for an upswing "soon for the entire decade."

—The Agriculture Department said average farm prices, which often loosely foreshadow coming moves in retail food prices, rose 0.3 per cent for the month ending May 15. Rising prices for fruits and vegetables more than offset lower prices for meats and eggs.

—The Labor Department classified five more metropolitan areas as having relatively substantial unemployment, making a total of 16. These were Waterbury, Conn., Baton Rouge, La., Fall River, Mass., Witchita, Kans., and Huntington, W. Va.-Ashland, Ky.

Senate Stage Set On Cambodian Test

By CARL P. LUEBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Sherman Cooper says next week's vote to bar enforcement of his proposal to restrict U.S. activities in Cambodia will provide the first clear test of strength in the three-week Senate debate.

The amendment, offered by Sen. Robert J. Dole, R-Kan., would make the proposed fund cutoff inoperative as long as Americans are held prisoner by the North Vietnamese in Cambodia.

"If the members in here aren't impressed by that," Cooper, R-Ky., said in an interview, "they won't be impressed by the other amendments either."

The Senate agreed before it adjourned Thursday for the Memorial Day weekend to vote Wednesday on Dole's amendment.

But the key vote is likely to come on a bid by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., to table—and thus kill—the Dole amendment. He said it "is quite clearly designed to destroy any effect whatsoever" of the Cooper-Church proposal barring funds after July 1 for "retaining" U.S. forces in Cambodia.

After Dole's amendment is acted on, Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., says he will offer another amendment authorizing the President "to take such actions as may be necessary to protect the lives of United States forces in South Vietnam and to hasten their withdrawal."

Cooper said both amendments deal with the subject that he finds increasingly mentioned in his mail: the contention by administration forces that Cooper-Church proponents are refusing to permit protection of U.S. troops in the field.

"They know better," Cooper said, pointing out the proposal would permit "hot pursuit" of the enemy across the South Vietnam-Cambodia border and "sallies over the line to protect the troops."

The only limit on the power to protect troops, the Kentucky Republican said, is that it tells the President "you can't use this argument to become involved in another war."

But Fulbright charged in a floor speech Thursday "relying as much as possible on its South Vietnamese clients, and perhaps alo on Thai and, if possible, Indonesian 'advisers,' the administration now apparently intends to sustain an indefinite, full-scale military involvement by proxy in Cambodia."

President Nixon said in May South Vietnamese forces would

Red Units Cut Key Cambodian Road Link

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist units cut the highway link between Saigon and Phnom Penh in Cambodia today and thrust again into the provincial capital of Prey Veng, where the Cambodians and South Vietnamese threw in reinforcements to fight them in the streets.

Military sources in Saigon and spokesmen in Phnom Penh said that guerrilla demolition experts knocked out a major two-span bridge on Highway 1 between the two capitals at 3 a.m., cutting traffic 60 miles east of Phnom Penh at the town of Svay Rieng.

Almost simultaneously, under cover of darkness, Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops were said to have slipped into Prey Veng, 35 miles east of Phnom Penh, for the second straight day, battling in the streets against Cambodian soldiers who held the center of the town.

A military spokesman in Phnom Penh said South Vietnamese troops were airlifted into the town by helicopter to help the Cambodian defenders. Tonight, two new Cambodian battalions moved into Prey Veng as well.

The fighting continued and the fate of the town was unknown.

The fighting came as military spokesmen said U.S. helicopter gunships mistakenly fired into a group of Allied soldiers Thursday in Cambodia, wounding 39 South Vietnamese troops and one American adviser. An investigation was ordered.

Allied military sources in Saigon said 10,481 Communist troops have been killed in Cambodia, the first report exceeding 10,000. U.S. losses were placed at 227 dead and 847 wounded, with South Vietnamese casualties at 524 killed and 2,236 wounded.

Notice 'Presumed' To Fit Brown Act

The Marin County district attorney's office has given school boards, city councils, and other public agencies a simple way to avoid the 24-hour notice provisions of California's open meeting law:

Mail the notice too late for delivery before the meeting.

This way to skirt the law was suggested today by Gary W. Thomas, assistant district attorney, in a report on investigation of a special meeting of the Sausalito School District board on May 15, at which charges were drawn against Principal Sidney F. Walton Jr. of Martin Luther King school and decision was reached to cancel a regular school board meeting.

Section 54965 of the California Government Code provides that a special meeting of any public body may be called "by delivering personally or by mail written notice to each member of the legislative body and to each local newspaper or general circulation, radio or television station requesting such notice in writing. Such notice must be delivered personally or by mail at least 24 hours before the time of such meeting as specified in the notice."

The Sausalito School District board's special meeting was called on the evening of May 13, to be held at 7 a.m. May 15. However, the Independent-Journal did not receive the notice until the morning mail of May 15 — after the meeting was over. This was called to the district attorney's attention.

Thomas said the matter was investigated by Don E. Midyett and John J. Kingston of the district attorney's investigative staff.

"It is our opinion that no violation of the Brown Act (which includes section 54965) occurred," reported Thomas.

He explained it this way:

"The envelope containing the notice was postmarked May 14, 1970, Sausalito . . .

"A notice of the executive session of the Sausalito School District board indicates that a copy. . . was mailed to the Independent-Journal and the Mill Valley Record. Mr. Leonard Anderson, news editor of theMill Valley Record, advised Inspector Kingston that he received his notice in adequate time."

Then Thomas offered this interpretation of "delivered personally or by mail" as required in the law:

"There is a presumption in the law that indicates that a letter mailed is a letter recieved. A legal assumption is also drawn that the time of posting of the envelope in the mail box is the time of the receipt of said mail to the addressee."

The assistant district attorney cited no basis for the latter "legal presumption" but said:

"Under legal presumption, the time of your receipt of the notice would be the time that the notices were dropped into the mail box . . . at 11 p.m. on May 13."

The Independent-Journal made its own investigation of the delivery — apart from any "legal presumption" that a letter is "delivered personally or by mail" at the moment it is dropped into a mail box, regardless of how far it has to travel to reach the addressees. These facts emerged:

There is no sorting of mail in the Sausalito Post Office between 7 p.m. and 2 a.m., according to Postmaster Anthony Medeiros. Thus, a letter mailed after 7 p.m. is postmarked the following day.

At 2 a.m., sorting begins, and at 4 a.m., the mail for outside of Sausalito goes to the San Rafael Post Office by truck. San Rafael is the sorting point for all of Marin County.

Mail received from Sausalito on the 4 a.m. truck is dispatched from the San Rafael Post Office by another truck, leaving San Rafael at 6:40 a.m., according to San Rafael Postmaster Hugh Cassidy.

The 6:40 truck from San Rafael distributes mail to various other post offices in Marin County. It is scheduled to arrive at the Mill Valley Post Office at 7:45 a.m., according to Mill Val-

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

No Formal Word

SEOUL (AP) — South Korean Foreign Minister Choi Kyu-hah said today that this government has received no formal word from the U.S. government about plans to begin withdrawing American troops from Korea.

But the foreign minister told the National Assembly Foreign Affairs Committee that he would not rule out the possibility of a withdrawal from Korea in the future.

Choi maintained that the U.S.-Korean mutual security pact prevents the United States from pulling out its troops without the consent of the Korean government.

Sources in Washington reported this week that the Pentagon has begun planning for gradual withdrawal which may start late next year. The United States has more than 60,000 Army and Air Force troops stationed in Korea.

Hail On Wheat

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Heavy damage to the Texas Panhandle's wheat crop from pounding hail that stacked up to two feet deep at Skellytown was reported today by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The agency said the Skellytown, White Deer, Childress and Groom areas in the Panhandle all received massive crop losses due to the hail.

A Carson County sheriff's deputy said golf ball-size hail fell for an hour around Skellytown, 40 miles northeast of Amarillo, and practically wiped out the wheat crop in the area.

Winds to 60 miles per hour and rains of more than 3 inches also swept the area as big thunderstorms, some spewing tornado funnels, pounded the section east of Amarillo.

Fighting Erupts

TURIN, Italy (AP) — Wild street fighting erupted here Thursday night when leftists tried to storm a Neo-Fascist rally. Twenty-four policemen were injured.

In Syracuse, Sicily, two persons were injured in scuffles between leftists and Neo-Fascists who were holding a rally there.

Political violence has been on the rise in Italy as the June 7 regional elections draw near.

Turin police used tear gas and clubs to drive off scores of leftists trying to break into the rally where Neo-Fascist leader Giorgio Almirante was speaking.

The angry leftists, thwarted, threw rocks through windows and threw up crude barricades to block traffic. Others ripped down campaign banners of other political parties that were strung across the streets.

Visits President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel, who complained recently of being unable to obtain an audience with President Nixon, huddled with the President for nearly an hour Thursday.

An aide to the secretary said Hickel and Nixon discussed coastal zone legislation. Ronald L. Ziegler, White House press secretary, said the talks concerned Interior Department matters. The conference lasted 58 minutes.

Earlier this month Hickel wrote a letter to Nixon—which leaked to the news media—suggesting that the administration appears to lack concern for attitudes of the nation's young.

The secretary said later he wrote the letter because he was unable to get an appointment with Nixon or even a top presidential aide.

Sees Franco

MADRID (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers met for 45 minutes today with Gen. Francisco Franco and gave him a letter from President Nixon expressing hope for a conclusion soon of negotiations on U.S. military bases in Spain.

Rogers was accompanied by his counterpart, Foreign Minister Gregorio Lopez Bravo. The Spanish minister opened negotiations on the bases last March.

U.S. officials did not report what Rogers and the 77-year-old Spanish leader discussed.

Rogers, on a one-day visit, went first to Zarzuela Palace outside Madrid to see Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon, Spain's future king. He and the prince talked for about 30 minutes, officials said. The prince has been designated by Franco to succeed him as chief of state when the general retires or dies.

More Flooding?

VIENNA (AP) — With wide stretches of Romania still under water after weeks of disastrous floods, the ruling Communist party warned today that districts along the Danube are threatened with more water when the river crests June 2-12.

Scinteia, the party paper, said the higher water expected then would endanger the rich grain fields between Braila and Ialomita and river ports. It said the people in these districts were working day and night to strengthen their dikes.

Thirty-seven of Romania's 39 districts have been affected by the floods, which were caused by the sudden melting of snow in the mountains and constant rains.

The last death toll reported by the news agency Agerpres was 148 with 28 people missing.

Death Penalty

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — An all-white jury has decreed the death penalty for a Negro convicted of robbing a white girl of $30 and a wrist watch.

The seven women and five men of the Circuit Court jury deliberated less than three hours Thursday night before returning the verdict against John Henry Jones Jr., 23.

The 18-year girl testified Jones forced his way into her car at gunpoint last Sept. 13.

The maximum penalty for armed robbery under Alabama law is death. All death sentences are appealed automatically to the state Supreme Court.

Jones still faces two counts of criminal assault, one of abduction and one of assault with intent to murder the girl.

Escapes Injury

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Susan Scott Agnew, 22-year-old daughter of the vice president, escaped injury in a collision between her car and a pickup truck Thursday on Maryland's eastern shore.

The truck driver, Townsend Cloud, 47, of Nanticoke, Mo., also was unhurt. State police charged him with a right-of-way violation.

NIXON, GRAHAM AND YOUTH

President Richard M. Nixon chats with evangelist Billy Graham (left), looking over the program for youth night in Graham's crusade in the University of Tennessee stadium at Knoxville. Nixon last night told Graham's audience that today's youth are not the beat generation — and could be called the "great" generation. Only a small band of hecklers was heard in Nixon's first on-campus appearance since last fall. (AP Wirephoto)

Nixon Rests In California, Huddles With His Advisers

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—Looking tired, President Nixon settled down today at his oceanside, Spanish-style villa, hoping to relax and work at a leisurely pace this holiday weekend.

The President brought along with him a covey of foreign policy and domestic advisers with whom he planned to confer with before returning to Washington Monday.

The 57-year-old chief executive has been riding out the storm on Cambodia, the stock market slump, the economic slowdown and student unrest.

Since he decided April 30 to send American ground troops into Cambodia, Nixon has been fighting a rear-guard action with "dovish" Senators and antiwar protesters, including university presidents and students. But in the past few days his mood has perked up considerably and Nixon's new upbeat style is being projected by his aides. They reflect an optimism the President has won this round with his critics.

Nixon planned a quiet Memorial Day weekend with his wife, Pat, and best friend, Charles "Bebe" Rebozo, who accompanied him. The Nixons' daughter, Tricia, 24, had other plans that kept her from making the trip and the First Lady hinted her daughter had a big date.

Pope Will Visit Philippines, Australia Conclave In Fall

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI will visit the Philippines and Australia next November, the Vatican announced today.

The Vatican said the 72-year-old Pontiff would fly to Manila in the second half of November to take part in a conference of Roman Catholic bishops in the Far East. Then he will fly to Sydney to participate in a conference of bishops from Oceania and in celebrations of the 200th anniversary of the discovery of Australia.

It will be the Pope's ninth trip outside Italy and the first visit by any pontiff to the Far East and Australia.

It will also be the longest trip by the Pope since he became spiritual ruler of the world's half-billion Roman Catholics seven years ago.

Previously he made jet journeys to the Holy Land, to India, New York, Portugal, Turkey, Bogota, Geneva and Uganda.

Last April the pontiff made yet another jet trip, to the Italian island of Sardinia.

Never before Pope Paul came to power had a reigning pontiff made any airplane trip.

One of the hallmarks of the present pontiff's reign has been his effort to go out and meet "his flock," as he puts it. He has described himself as an "apostle on the move," and "the pilgrim Pope."

Recent reports said the pontiff was also considering trips to Avila in Spain and Siena in Italy next fall. These possibilities were not altogether ruled out by the announcement of the November trip which will carry the pontiff half way around the world.

The announcement indicates the pontiff, who underwent an operation for the removal of a prostate gland in November 1967, is in good health.

The November visit promises to be a gruelling trip that Vatican officials today said might last 15 days.

The Pope also today celebrated the 50th anniversary of his ordination amid prayers that the world's governments and peoples heed his repeated appeals for peace.

The 72-year-old pontiff, nearing the end of the seventh year of his reign, looked relaxed and rested as he celebrated Mass in Sant'Anna, the Vatican City's little parish church. He walked with a firm step.

Concorde's Boom Over England Out

LONDON (UPI)—The Concorde, the new Anglo-French supersonic jet, will not be allowed to make a supersonic boom over England.

The government decision was announced Thursday in a paper on protection of the environment and will mean that the new faster-than-sound aircraft will have to wait until it's over water before breaking the sound barrier.

Ceylon Woman Chief Sworn; Backers Riot

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Sirimavo Bandaranaike was sworn in as Ceylon's new prime minister today while 5,000 of her supporters attacked the offices of the country's largest newspaper group in another part of Colombo.

The youthful demonstrators broke into the Lake House Publishing building and threw files out of the windows, along with typewriters and telephones.

No casualties were reported as nearly all employes had been evacuated from the building a short while before the attack began.

Lake House Publishing strongly opposed Mrs. Bandaranaike's election bid. Her leftist coalition won Wednesday's parliamentary elections by a landslide.

About a mile away, in the colonial-style Queens House, Gov. Gen. William Gopallawa administered the oath of office to 53-year-old Mrs. Bandaranaike, who became the world's third woman prime minister, along with India's Indira Gandhi and Israel's Golda Meir.

Mrs. Bandaranaike had earlier served as the world's first woman prime minister when she headed Ceylon's government from 1960 to 1965, after her husband was assassinated while serving as prime minister.

Police fired tear gas to disperse rampaging youths gathered outside the Lake House building.

But the tear gassing came after most of the damage had been done.

Ex-Leader Of Argentina Is Missing

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The Argentine government announced Friday that ex-President Pedro Eugenio Aramburu "has disappeared." The announcement did not say he had been kidnaped but an official denial that his arrest had been ordered strengthened the belief.

Gen. Francisco Imaz, minister of the interior, said members of the family informed him Lt. Gen. Aramburu left his apartment this morning with two young men in military uniforms posing as aides from army command headquarters.

The family said the young men told Aramburu he was wanted at headquarters, but an army spokesman said he had not been summoned.

Aramburu, 67, was provisional president of Argentina from shortly after Juan D. Peron was overthrown in 1955 until he turned over his office in 1958 to an elected president, Arturo Frondizi.

Recently, he has been mentioned as a possible replacement in the future for President Juan Carlos Ongania, now completing his fourth year in office.

Police rushed at noon to Aramburu's home, an apartment on the 8th floor of a building in downtown Buenos Aires.

Aramburu was catapulted into the limelight overnight in 1955 when he was suddenly named provisional president on Nov. 13. The military officers who had overthrown Peron on Sept. 16, 1955, had made its leader, Gen. Eduardo Lonardi, president.

But Lonardi, a nationalist, was opposed by other sectors in the military, who forced him to step down and placed Lt. Gen. Aramburu in office.

Aramburu, who retired from the army when he left the presidency, is considered a moderate politically and thus a compromise candidate in the constant political struggle between Argentina's nationalists and so-called liberals. The liberals' major belief is that the country needs a free enterprise economy and foreign investment for development.

Civic Affairs Panel Bruce Square Off

The Marin Council for Civic Affairs, disquieted by reports from its observers at board of supervisors meetings, questioned County Administrator Alan Bruce for over an hour at its Wednesday meeting, president George Ellman said today.

He said Bruce was asked to define his role in county policy-making and to tell why the board of supervisors has not questioned more items.

Bruce, according to Ellman, replied that the board wants to get along and avoid overt disagreements.

"Our observers seem to think that this means that the board is occasionally overlooking things that ought to be dealt with in the open," Ellman said. He said the board may be going too far to avoid disagreement in public.

Recent decisions on cable television "indicated that the present board is perhaps not too questioning and detailed about a lot of matters," Ellman charged.

Bruce also said he is merely a servant of the supervisors and has no say in county policy, according to Ellman. The civic affairs group had questioned the presence of the administrator's recommendations on agendas without any explanations, Ellman said.

Ellman said he was personally dissatisfied with the insights he got from Bruce so the group will invite the administrator to another meeting. He did not say when that meeting would be.

be coming out of Cambodia with American troops by June 30.

Fulbright, however, said "Step by step, the administration has hedged, backed off and now all but repudiated the President's confident predictions of South Vietnamese withdrawal."

Noting South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky's statement that Saigon forces would have to leave Cambodia is a "silly argument of silly people," Fulbright said, "sometimes we are reminded that Mr. Thieu is boss and that we ought not to take Mr. Ky's colorful assertions too seriously.

"Perhaps Ky is no more than an Asian Agnew," he added, "but there is every reason to believe that his chief is no less determined to keep the Americans mired in the swamp" of Cambodia.

MEETINGS

ley Postmaster Jack Little. The Mill Valley staff, he said, "tries to have it all distributed to mail boxes by 9:30."

However, if the letter is to a street address as was the notice to the I-J's Mill Valley office rather than to a post office box, it is not delivered until the following day, as the mailmen must begin their rounds before sorting of the mail received at 7:45 a.m. can be done. Thus a letter received at the post office on May 14 was delivered May 15.

Edward M. Mills, publisher of the Mill Valley Record, said he — not the news editor — picks up the Record's mail at the post office. Usually he does so about 9 a.m., but on May 14 he was a little late. By that fortunate chance, the letter from the Sausalito School District board had been placed in the post office box by the time he collected the mail. But it was too late for the Record, which is a weekly, to notify its readers of the meeting.

strategist, was interviewed by UPI with the understanding he would not be quoted by name.

He said the administration considers the nation's overall economy to be basically sound. But he conceded the effort to stop inflation is behind schedule and unemployment has climbed to a higher level than had been expected.

President Nixon believes there is nothing much wrong with the economy that time, continuation of present policies and a little more confidence from the public will not cure, the official said.

For this reason, Nixon probably will seek additional dramatic ways to reassure the public on the future of the economy. Wednesday night's dinner for business executives was part of this "educational" campaign. A televised report to be scheduled soon is another.

The administration announced last week that the budget for the fiscal year that ends June 30 will show a deficit of $1.8 billion, mostly as a result of lower than anticipated corporate tax collections resulting from a business slump.

A deficit of $1.3 billion was forecast in the $205.6 billion budget for the next fiscal year provided Congress approves a $1.6 billion antipollution tax on lead used in gasoline and a $1.5 billion speedup in the collections of inheritance and gift taxes.

Budget Director Robert P. Mayo said a deficit is also likely for the 1972 fiscal year. That budget will be sent to Congress next January.

The adminsitration is expected to decide sometime in December if it will have to request additional taxes when it submits the 1972 budget.

The official indicated a deficit of $5 billion or so would be acceptable in 1972 if the economy was still operating below its capacity.

The administration, meanwhile, is showing increasing interest in suggestions for more direct attacks on inflationary wage or price increases. Plans being discussed all stop well short of mandatory wage-price controls

Stans told a news conference Thursday that wage-price guidelines and similar plans "are under constant discussion" at the White House.

"The administration is violently opposed to any sort of (mandatory) control over wages and prices," Stans said. "Everything else is under consideration. I don't think anything is ruled out although we don't see any reason now to go beyond our present policy."

Private Road Wins Permit For House

The Fairfax Planning Commission, by a 4-3 vote, last night granted a conditional zoning permit for construction of a house in an area of the city reached by private road, and at the same time established a policy for the future development of such areas, chairman E. Ross Parkerson reported today.

The commission approved the application of Max F. Holsinger to build on Fawn Ridge, a private road off Bolinas Road above the city.

Approval was on condition, however, that the applicant pave an 18-foot-wide strip, with 20 feet of usuable roadway, along the front of the property before an occupancy permit will be issued, and that the same road requirements will be enforced on any future development in the area.

The requirements conform to the city's private road ordinance.

Commissioners William D. Chapman Jr., Charles Eckles and Harold S. Lezzeni, voted against Holsinger's application.

Parkerson said he wasn't sure why Chapman and Lezzeni did not approve, but said that Eckles was concerned that the requirements would place a burden on future developers of vacant land in the city.

The Fairfax Planning Commission also:

USE PERMIT — Approved an application for a conditional use permit from Kermit Sheets, 78 Wreden Avenue, to have two residential units in a single family dwelling zone.

ENCROACHMENT — Recommended to the city council approval of an application from George Councilman of 53 Bay Road for a six-foot encroachment, with the condition that if the city widens the road in the future, the structure will have to be removed at the owner's expense.

SCHOOL — Granted a conditional zoning permit to Adell De Persia to operate a Montessori Nursery School program at Christ the Victor Lutheran Church, 2626 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

BUDGET — Voted to raise from $500 to $1,000 a proposed budget request for contractural services.

MEETING — Adjourned in memory of Daniel M. Miller, former chairman of the commission, who died Wednesday, to a special meeting June 18 to discuss the proposed zoning ordinance.

to halt the move. He said about 25 per cent of the signatures were those of Sausalito residents.

Although the group has hired the San Francisco law firm of Landels-Ripley and Diamond to represent it, Bauerle expressed the hope the problem can be resolved without court action.

He said the association will help — it already has 75 members — and more businessmen are joining all the time. Treasurer for the group is Harold Gutknecht and Gene Hiller is finance chairman. Directors include Mayer, Harold Hobbs and William Remak.

"The council is elected of the people, by the people and for the people and those councilmen better start understanding that," Miss Stanford said, "or we will recall them and I'm willing to put up the money for a recall."

morning came two days short of the halfway mark of the American involvement in the cross-border offensive. The U.S. troops went in May 1 and are due out June 30.

Highway 1 between the two neighboring capitals had been opened by a South Vietnamese task force that thrust to within three miles of Phnom Penh. There was no indication when the Svay Rieng bridge would be fixed or a detour arranged.

UPI correspondent Robert C. Miller reported from Phnom Penh Communist units went back into Prey Veng before dawn after pulling back under attack late Thursday. So close was the combat that the defenders were unable to call in Allied air strikes.

Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops first shelled and then invaded the city early Thursday after blowing up all the bridges around it, blocking Cambodian reinforcements from coming to the rescue.

The attack against Prey Veng was described by officials as the most serious against a population center in Cambodia since the guerrillas captured Tonle Bet, 50 miles northeast of Phnom Penh, two weeks ago. They were subsequently driven out.

Four other smaller Cambodian towns were reported still in Viet Cong and North Vietnamese hands—Taing Krasang 75 miles north of the capital plus Kratie, Stung Treng and Senmonorom, all on the east bank of the Mekong River.

U.S. headquarters in Saigon reported only one what it termed significant encounter involving American troops in Cambodia—the killing of 51 Communist troops Thursday 103 miles north of Saigon, most of them by helicopter gunships. No GI losses were given.

Heroin Believed Found In Auto

Several balloons containing possible heroin, a rolled match cover, two marijuana cigarette butts and a package of cigarette papers were found today in an unoccupied car parked in a field east of Canal Street, San Rafael police reported.

The owner of the car, Nancy Lay of 260 Canal Street, told police the car had been in the possession of her son, Jeffrey Dean Peters, of no known address.

Also found in the car, police said, were a pearl handled knive and sheath, a pair of gloves and $100 cash.

Funeral services are pending at Redwood Chapel Funeral Home, Novato. The family asked that memorial contributions be made to favorite charities.

REAGAN WON'T ENDORSE IN ANY CONTEST

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Gov. Ronald Reagan today said, "I am not endorsing any candidate in any contested Republican primary."

The governor's statement came in response to inquiries concerning the Fourth Senatorial District race, in which several candidates have intimated they have Reagan's support.

"I am hopeful that all candidates in Republican primaries will conduct their campaigns in a dignified manner and that after the election all Republicans will unite in support of the party's nominees," said Reagan.

Drug-Charged GI Files Suit

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—A Marine facing an undesirable discharge for alleged possession of marijuana in Vietnam has filed a federal suit against Secretary of the Navy John Chafee to prevent the action.

Lance Cpl. Dale R. Fowler, currently stationed at the Marine Corps recruit depot, asked the court in a petition to declare the separation order null and void. He also asked that he be allowed to complete his term of enlistment with an honorable discharge.

A hearing in U.S. District Court will be held June 4.

Fowler claimed that on March 7 while serving in Vietnam he was charged with possession of marijuana. He said he was given an option of returning to the United States or staying in Vietnam to appear before a special court martial board.

Big Explosive Cache Is Found

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) —A huge chemical cache capable of making nitroglycerine and other explosives has been found in the apartment of a young man charged with arson and robbing a chemical plant.

When raiding the home of Robert Stover, 25, police found a dozen rifles, ammunition, a complete laboratory for making powerful explosives and literature from North Vietnam.

Stove and a companion, Michael F. Lamm, 24, were captured Thursday in an auto chase an hour after the robbery of chemicals at the Nurenberg Scientific Supply House in Berkeley.

An arson warrant had been issued for Stover after his former landlord, Ned R. Reed, 50, said he was tied up when he entered Stover's previous flat Feb. 2.

Reopening King School Monday Called A Must

By PAT ANGLE

The Marin City Council, concerned that continued closure of Martin Luther King School will harm Marin City youngsters, agreed last night the school must reopen on Monday.

Council members, on a motion by Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr., chairman, decided to ask the community to come to the school on that day and "bring their children to be educated."

Banks said interested residents and parents will be working this weekend to let the community know what is happening and to convince parents and children to go to school. He called two organizational meetings, one this morning and one tomorrow at 11 a.m. at the Manzanita Center.

"We have to get up in arms and take some action," Banks said. "There are little black kids in Marin City — whose parents don't have the money to send them to private schools — who are supposed to graduate in a few days. We have to make sure they do, even if we have to teach them on the hillsides."

Sausalito Sup. Philip W. Schneider said yesterday he has no idea when King School, which he ordered closed Tuesday because of student unrest and an outbreak of vandalism, will reopen.

Nathaniel Johnson, Sausalito School District board chairman told the Inependent-Journal last night he is completely in favor of the Marin City Council's plan. "Black kids are being burned in this situation," Johnson said, adding he feels the school must open as soon as possible.

Final exams at King School are scheduled for next week in most classes.

"Educating our children is our first concern," Collie Gaines, council member, said. "They are not going to be educated if the school is closed down."

"The teachers have said they will be at school Monday," Banks said. "If we have the teachers and the youngsters at school, what more do we need?"

Approximately 280 youngsters, more than half of them from Marin City, attend King School.

The council also passed a resolustion, copies of which will be sent to the school board, Marin County superintendent of schools office, state Board of Education and President Richard M. Nixon, demanding the school be reopened.

Yesterday King teachers, angered by the refusal of two trustees to meet with them to discuss the school crisis, adopted the following statement: "On Wednesday, May 27, the Marin Luther King staff indicated that they felt a dangerous and serious situation exists at the school for the children.

"We requested that the school board meet with King teachers to discuss the situation — a situation to which we feel the board has contributed directly by its firing of Sid Walton (King principal) and its refusal to meet publicly."

The teachers called the board's refusal to meet (Trustees James E. Muldoon and C. Gerald Clear said they could not attend the meeting, called for yesterday, because of prior commitments) "grossly irresponsible to the education of the children and the safety and welfare of Marin Luther King School children and employees."

"It is an insult to the Martin Luther King School staff," the statement continued. "We have asked for effective help and have received none.

"It is our opinion that there has been no change in the situation and that a dangerous atmosphere continues to exist.

"We the staff will remain on the job," the statement concluded. "The decision as to whether . . .the school reopens remains with the school board and the district superintendent inasmuch as they are fully aware of the situation."

The school was closed after King Vice Principal James T. Toliver Jr. — in the wake of student fights and vandalism — informed Schneider he could not be responsible for the safety of the children in the absence of Walton, who is recovering from minor surgery.

No. Hollywood Youth Denies Weed Charge

Stanley Michael Kelly, 20, of North Hollywood, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of possessing marijuana on Jan. 29. A preliminary hearing was set for June 2.

Kelly was arrested when a California Highway Patrolman went over to investigate his minibus which was parked on a shoulder of Highway 101. An odor of marijuana greeted the officer and a search of the vehicle produced a small quantity of suspected pot. Kelly later failed to make a court appearance, and he was recently returned to jail on a bench warrant.

Juvenile Commission Asks Additional Staff Members

The Marin County Juvenile Justice Commission has recommended that the Marin County Board of Supervisors add three staff members at the Juvenile Hall.

Commission member John L. Rockwell said the decision was made Wednesday after Erick F. Yarchin, superintendent of the juvenile hall, and probation officer James B. Soetaert reported on overcrowding the understaffing at the facility.

The recent escape of nine boys underlines the lax security that has resulted, Rockwell said.

Soetaert said the county administrator, Alan Bruce, has agreed to include in the budget salaries for three additional men to process newcomers.

Although neither man could give a budget figure, Soetaert said the proposed budget will be larger than last year's only because of the three new salaries.

The commission also heard a report from Parnel Finn, president of the Juvenile Hall Auxiliary, in which she said questionnaires had been sent to prospective volunteers, according to Rockwell.

The commission member said volunteers may alleviate the staff problem.

Girl Newcomer Denies Marijuana

Janie Allice Gallagher, 18, who came to Mill Valley about two weeks ago from Pennsylvania, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of possessing marijuana in Mill Valley Tuesday.

A preliminary hearing was set for June 23.

Miss Gallagher was arrested after marijuana plants had been seen growing outside.

Teacher Murdered By Surprised Prowler?

I-J Special Report

MONTEREY — Teacher Susan Jameson, 24, formerly of Petaluma, apparently surprised a prowler and was beaten to death, according to Monterey County sheriff's investigators.

Her body was found late Wednesday in a storeroom at the San Benancio School, where she taught second grade, by the 17-year-old son of the principal who worked at the school as a janitor in the afternoon.

Miss Jameson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darol R. Jameson of Petaluma, had apparently surprised a prowler in the principal's office following a faculty meeting, investigators believe.

The sheriff's office reported finding papers scattered about the office.

"There has been no arrest made yet and the investigation is continuing," was the only comment a sheriff's spokesman would make on suspects.

The officer said Miss Jameson had been "brutally beaten" about the head, but declined to identify the murder weapon.

Miss Jameson had taught second grade at the small rural school since September.

In 1969, she was named the outstanding woman graduate of Sonoma State College by the American Association of University Women and also won the dean's award as the outstanding graduate.

Born in Petaluma, she lived there until she earned her teaching credential and moved to Monterey last year.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 11 a.m. tomorrow at St. Vincent de Paul Church, Petaluma. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Petaluma.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at the Sorensen Funeral Home, Petaluma.

She is survived by her parents; her grandmothers, Hylda Stromberg and Wilma Jameson, both of Petaluma; a sister, Mary Jameson of Petaluma, and two brothers, Brent, of Petaluma, and Steven, stationed in Texas with the Army.

Cleaver's Spouse Flies To Korea

ALGIERS (AP) — The wife of Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver boarded a plane for North Korea today where she plans to have her second child, due in August.

Mrs. Cleaver left with her first child, 9-month-old Lumumba Maathias, on a flight for Pyongyang. She will be the guest in North Korea of the "Committee for Korean Unity."

Her husband and several members of the North Korean Embassy went to the airport to see her off. The Black Panther leader declined to answer newsmen's questions about his plans.

One World Leader To Vacaville

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Allen W. Noonan, 54-year-old founder of Larkspur's One World Family, has been ordered to Vacaville for up to 90 days psychiatric evaluation.

The order was issued yesterday in superior court, where Noonan was found guilty last Friday on eight counts of possessing and selling peyote and marijuana in 1968.

After evaluation at the California Medical Facility at Vacaville, Noonan is to be returned for probation report and sentencing. An Aug. 21 date was set, but a court clerk said sentencing could be earlier if the evaluation is completed sooner.

Noonan was found guilty of selling marijuana on April 17, 1968, of selling marijuana and peyote on June 3, 1968, and of selling and possessing peyote and marijuana and maintaining a place for selling narcotics on June 19, 1968, all in San Francisco.

He was found guilty after the court ruled he could not offer religion as a defense.

Connecticut has an area of 5,009 square miles and population of about 2,540,000.

San Rafael Seeking Pair Of Fugitives

San Rafael police are searching for a wanted couple believed to have fled the city yesterday in an older model, cream-colored Plymouth.

The fugitives are Cheryl Eve Gettinger, 22, also known as Sara Eviva Jacomas, formerly of El Paso, Tex., who is wanted on a smuggling charge by the U.S. Customs Bureau and Ernest Rios, Jr., 26, of 109 Ross Street, San Rafael, an ex-convict wanted for parole violation.

According to police, they discovered Miss Gettinger was wanted on the federal charge when they found a driver's license with her true identity Wednesday at a residence at 12 Elaine Way where she worked as a babysitter.

Police said they went to the address to investigate the woman's passing forged prescriptions and searched her room when they found she was not at home.

Rios told his employer, Bergman Manufacturing at 632 Irwin Street, at noon yesterday that he had to leave work because Miss Gettinger was in jail and if he did not return in two hours he would also be in jail.

Miss Gettinger is five feet, three inches tall and has red hair and freckles, police said.

Sports Car Stolen

A dark green 1962 Porsche with license UEM 273 and parked in the used car lot at Doug Cowan's Used Cars, 805 Irwin Street, was stolen between 9:30 p.m. Wednesday and 8 a.m. yesterday, San Rafael police reported.

Liquor Licenses May Face Curbs

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Assembly Government Organization Committee voted Thursday to stop the "saturation" of liquor stores.

The committee approved the measure by Assemblyman Bill Greene, D-Los Angeles, and sent it to the full Assembly. It would allow a city council to set up an "urban control area" where no more liquor licenses could be issued.

Greene, whose district includes part of Watts, called his measure an "attempt to get at the saturation of liquor licenses in areas such as I represent." He said there were "more liquor stores in our communities than stop lights," and the establishments served as fathering places for "hustlers and prostitutes."

Bagley Amends Tax Reform Bill

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's tax revision plan is before the Senate in a form designed to please conservative Republican assemblymen along with the oil and gas industry.

The Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee quietly amended the package to place a four-year cutoff date on the payroll withhoulding of personal income taxes. It also changed the depletion allowance section to conform only the oil and gas industry to federal regulations.

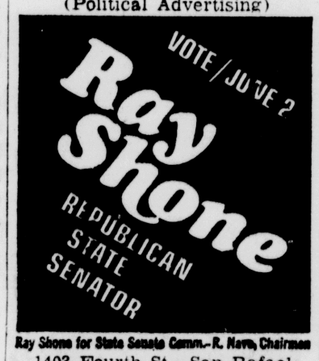

A full hearing by the committee on the $600 million plan is scheduled tentatively for June 10. The measures had not been on the formal agenda Wednesday but the amendments by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, the plan's sponsor, were accepted anyway.

Delta Monitor Policy Studied

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The State Water Resources Control Board plans to consider establishing a "unique" environmental minotiring program for the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta and Suisun Bay.

The board announced that the program is recommended in a study, prepared under the board's supervision by Stanford Research Institute, to be formally submitted to the board at its meeting next Thursday.

$10,000 Fire In Kitchen Of Hub House

A kitchen fire did an estimated $10,000 damage to a San Anselmo home yesterday in spite of the owner's efforts to douse the blaze with a fire extinguisher and garden hose.

The San Anselmo Fire Department said the fire began in the kitchen over the stove at the 15 Alto Avenue home of Margaret Symons. The blaze was contained in the kitchen, but did smoke damage to the dining room and living room, according to firemen.

Mrs. Symons battled the blaze until firemen arrived, but could not put it out, firemen said. She was not injured.

Firemen explained that the damage estimate was high because the exposed beams in the ceiling in the kitchen were charred and will have to be replaced.

Cause of the fire is under investigation.

37 Adult High Diplomas Awarded

Diplomas were awarded last night to 37 students of the Petaluma Adult High School.

Dr. Carroll Mjelde, dean of educational services and summer sessions at Sonoma State College, was the featured speaker for the 10th annual commencement exercise held at Petaluma Senior High School.

Agricultural Land Uses Eyed

Marin's land conservation advisory board began sifting through a list of property uses that could be considered compatible to agriculture at yesterday's meeting at the Civic Center.

The advisory board, headed by Boyd Stewart of Olema, asked County Planner Rowland Darnell and Assessor Bert W. Broemmel to compile a specific list of compatible uses for board approval.

The 1969 legislature amended the Williamson Act (Agriculture Preserve Law) so that each county must, by November 1971, zone all areas in agricultural preserve to uses "not incompatible" with agriculture.

Among compatible uses discussed by the advisory board yesterday were: A one-family dwelling unit for each separate ownership, farms for various crops, dairying and beef cattle, poultry and fish farm, airport landing strip, hog ranch, mining and drilling with appropriate controls, buildings for packing or handling farm products, killing and dressing of small animals such as poultry or rabbits, fish hatcheries, rifle and target ranges, riding and hunting clubs, and maintenance of land in a natural state for open space or recreational use.

Board members decided that a slaughterhouse for large animals like sheep, cattle and pigs would not be compatible to agriculture.

Stewart appointed a committee to draft a list of any other compatible uses such as educational and commercial recreation facilities.

The goal of the advisory board is to recommend to the Board of Supervisors the areas in the county which belong in agricultural preserves, and to determine whether any of those already under preserve contract should be taken out.

Of the county's 213,264 acres, about 92,000 acres are under preserve contract, and receiving reduced assessments.

The next meeting of the advisory board will be at 9 a.m. June 18 at the Civic Center.

Human Rights Choice Under Fire By NAACP

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People says Gov. Reagan's nominee to head the State Human Relations Agency once tried to prevent the Butte County Bar Association from disciplining an aide who had tampered with jury lists.

The NAACP, in a letter to Reagan Thursday, repeated its opposition to Lucian Vandegrift, saying Vandegrift had "a punitive attitude toward the poor" and a "tendency to mete out justice on the basis of affluence."

Leonard H. Carter, western region director for the NAACP, said Augustus Noland, an aide to Vandegrift when Vandegrift was Butte County District Attorney, was found to have gone over jury lists, striking out the names of all persons who had served on juries before and who had voted "not guilty" in prior cases.

Carter said Vandegrift protested to the bar association when discipline was instituted against Noland.

"He even went so far," says Carter, "as to go on the local television station, KHSL, and defend his assistant and castigate certain local attorneys."

"We have found no evidence of his (Vandegrift) speaking out against" the purging of the jury lists, Carter wrote the governor.

Carter asked Reagan to withdraw Vandegrift's nomination.

Suspected Pot Found In Hat Of Stopped Driver

A 19-year old San Rafael youth was booked into Marin County Jail today on suspicion of possessing marijuana after police who stopped him for driving without lights found green vegetable matter and smoking paraphernalia in his hatband.

The youth, Laramie Moreau of 102 Espalda Court, was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Moreau's car, according to police, was stopped at Second Street and Lincoln Avenue at 1:30 a.m. A patrolman became suspicious of the way he removed his cowboy hat and placed in on the front seat and asked to examine the hat.

Possible marijuana cigarettes, green vegetable matter wrapped in cigarette paper and three possible marijuana joints were found in the hatband, police said.

Session Reset

The meeting of the Hillcrest Hospital board scheduled for last night was postponed until Monday at 8 p.m. at the hospital.

Supervisors Due Budget Draft Soon

Marin County's proposed budget for 1970-71, calling for an expenditure of $36,024,555, will be presented in printed booklet form to the Marin County Board of Supervisors Tuesday.

County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell announced that copies of the proposed budget will be available to the public by next Friday.

The budget, almost $3 million higher than this year's $33,261,422, has been recommended by County Administrator Alan Bruce following numerous cutbacks. Bruce proposed elimination of three departments, cutting 31 employees, scaling down other expenses and phasing out county welfare supplementation.

Even with these cuts, the projected tax rate for the new fiscal year is $2.575, compared with this year's rate of $2.395. However, this projected rate will drop to about $2.54 because of recent increases made by the assessor on property values throughout the county.

This $2.54 tax rate can also drop materially if the governor's tax package is approved or if Proposition 8 is approved although Proposition 8 is not as desirable as the governor's tax package," said Mitchell. The governor's package would limit county spending to the 1969-70 level, and raise state assistance to counties through increased sales taxes and higher taxes on upper level incomes.

Department-by-department budget hearings before the supervisors will begin June 15.

School Vandalism

A burglar pried open a door to a faculty room at Miller Creek School in Marinwood either Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning and caused $100 worth of damage to a soft drink machine when he tried to open it, sheriff's deputies said today.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies now being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and from Parents Magazine. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

"Love Bug" — A little car with human feelings becomes the devoted friend of a discouraged racing car driver. Their adventures are a delight.

"Marooned" — Timely drama tells of the plight of three astronauts marooned in space. Meticulous, authentic details about the technicalities of space flight are fascinating.

"My Side of the Mountain" — A 13-year-old boy sets out to prove he can live alone with nature for a year in the wilderness of Toronto. Details of his adventures are delightful. He learns that friendship is as valuable as solitude.

"Run Wild, Run Free" — A simple, moving, quietly told story about an ill child and the curative power of nature and love is so convincingly acted it becomes an emotional experience.

ADULTS AND TEENS:

"Ben Hur" — Reissue. Magnificently photographed spectacle of the violence and hatred during the life of Christ. Dramatic and exciting but sadistic sequences make it unsuitable for younger children.

"Change of Habit" — Three nuns work for two months in a Nego-Puerto Rican ghetto. By not wearing their habits and keeping their calling a secret they are subjected to unexpected experiences. Some of the ethics are confusing.

"Norwood" — Ex-Marine in search of a job has adventures and misadventures as he innocently chauffeurs stolen cars. Some incidents, salty dialogue are in poor taste. Will appeal to Glen Campbell fans.

"Sicilian Clan" — Head of Mafia arranges a prison break in order to accomplish one final robbery before retirement. The contrast between his professional and personal morals is well dramatized. Very well acted and photographed.

"Sterile Cuckoo" — A kooky college girl and a boy who is serious and square. Their love affair and first sex experience are told with simplicity and insight. Acting excellent.

"They Shoot Horses, Don't They?" — Dance marathons of depression years are vividly recreated in this powerful unusual drama. Ending is macabre and shocking.

"This Is My Alaska" — Hunting and fishing during all seasons with focus on the killings. Photography and narration is amateurish and overly long. Brutality of the kills makes it unsuitable for the immature.

"True Grit" — When a young girl's father has been killed, she convinces a federal marshal to track down the murderer. Humor and suspense mingle effectively. Violence is an integral part of story.

BORDERLINE

(Most sources say Adults Only)

"Gaily, Gaily" — Based on Ben Hecht's autobiography film is set in Chicago of 1910. Film convinces one that decadence was greater then than today. Many scenes risque with nudity and explicit sex.

ADULTS ONLY:

"Adventurers" — In three hours this film touches many bases from South American revolution and ensuing corruption to jet-set life in New York and Rome. The film is filled with graphic scenes of violence and lurid sex. Big budget and large cast do not help this mediocre production.

"A Fine Pair" — Sophisticated romantic comedy filmed in high fashion and swinging style about a police officer who turns to a life of crime, making thievery appear exciting and glamorous.

"Grasshopper" — Small town girl from Canada comes to Los Angeles and moves on to Las Vegas as a chorus girl. Film relates all her sex adventures along the way. Tedious and shallow.

"MASH" — Title stands for Mobile Army Surgical Hospital. Antiwar film deals with three surgeons. Scenes are gruesome as they are funny. Bittersweet element of truth in action and dialogue.

"Women In Love" — Film abounds in art, visual effects and style. D. H. Lawrence's novel written 50 years ago is strongly put forth with very explicit, sensual eroticism and much nudity, both male and female.

Budget Session Off

Last night's scheduled budget session of the San Rafael City Council was cancelled for lack of a quorum. Another date, possibly Tuesday, will be set, according to City Mgr. James H. McCowan.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Amphitryon' Is Light, Bright, Welcome Play

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP) — A new German version of an amorous myth, "Amphitryon" opened Thursday night at Lincoln Center's Forum Theater, light, bright, witty and welcome.

Until now Peter Hacks, who lives on the eastern side of the Berlin Wall, has been overlooked completely by American producers. Some of his works may brood heavy with ideological slant, but on this occasion as translated by Ralph Manheim, the total message is unadulterated, stimulating fun.

As ever, Jupiter descends for impassioned dalliance with the wife of a bumbling ambitious warrior absent on Theban conquest. "I had more license when I played the swan," he grimaces when Mercury tries to make him behave like an ordinary husband.

The facile double-identity mischief progresses with regulation complications, enlivened into freshness by the slyly cogent rhetoric with which Hacks reaches his own interpretive rationale.

That genial grain of advice to the put-upon spouse and all mere mortals is: "A man is driven by necessity, but still isn't blameless—never take your shortcomings for granted." Jupiter, after all, is the man of La Mancha in disguise.

The half-dozen players assembled under Robert Symonds' crisply droll direction are uniformly effective. Philip Bosco, head man of the heavens; James Ray, his messenger; James Patterson and Priscilla Pointer, the blissfully betrayed couple; and Harold Gould, a platitudinous philosopher, speak the lines trippingly. Dan Sullivan, night incarnate, doesn't say a word but is pantomime perfection.

Judge Orders Union, Officials To Appear On Store Picketing

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A federal judge yesterday ordered San Francisco Typographical Union Local 21 to show why it should not be held in contempt for continuing picketing banned by the court a month ago in connection with the union's strike against the Independent-Journal.

U. S. District Court Judge William T. Sweigert ordered the union to appear at 2 p.m. Thursday and show why it and four union officials should not be cited for contempt.

The order followed complaints by the National Labor Relations Board that Local 21 pickets had continued to picket eight businesses, one in San Francisco, despite Sweigert's April 28 order banning it.

The order issued yesterday bans the local, its officers and its members from picketing the eight stores, or other stores with the object of preventing customers from buying.

The order also bans the union from urging the public not to patronize stores advertising in the I-J, and from threatening, or restraining firms from advertising in the paper.

The petition brought by the NLRB said that since the April 28 order, the union and its members have disobeyed the injunction. It lists stores illegally picketed as the Emporium in San Francisco and Northgate, Mayfair Market at Fourth and H streets, San Rafael, Lucky Stores in Fairfax, Big G Super in Sausalito and Corte Madera, and Longs Drugs in San Anselmo and San Rafael.

The NLRB asked the court to find the local in contempt, along with president Leon Olson, vice president John J. DeMartini, secretary-treasurer G. M. Bachich and organizer Don Abrams.

Sweigert issued the April 28 injunction pending outcome of a hearing before the NLRB on unfair labor charges brough against Local 21 by the I-J and the Emporium-Capwell Corp.

Yesterday's order requires the union to comply fully with the injunction, notify its members, and within 10 days after an order on the contempt matter has been issued, show the court that the injunction has been complied with.

The NLRB also asked Sweigert to fix an appropriate fine if the union continues to fail to obey the injunction or the possible contempt citation.

Hero Actor Faces Assault Charges

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — Audie Murphy, World War II hero who turned movie actor, has pleaded innocent to a charge of assaulting dog trainer David Gofstein with intent to commit murder.

Arraigned in court Thursday after four hours in jail, Murphy was directed to appear for a preliminary hearing July 6 and released without bail.

He also denied a charge of using force and violence against Mrs. Gofstein during a May 18 argument at the trainer's home.

Gofstein, 39, told police Murphy, accompanied by another man, hit him in the eye, knocked him down and pulled a gun and that both men kicked him.

(WHAT DOES A 15 YEAR OLD HEROIN USER HAVE TO DO WITH SEWAGE IN RICHARDSON BAY?)

Richardson Bay is the victim of pollution. The heroin user? He, too is the victim of pollution. Of a different kind.

The sewage that's being dumped into Richardson Bay may soon force us to stop fishing, swimming and water skiing there. That's pollution.

On April 22, 1970, a 15 year old Marin youth was arrested along with four others. They allegedly had been using heroin. Those five persons were supplied with a drug capable of destroying their minds and bodies. That, too, is pollution.

SIGN LANGUAGE — Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., is framed by the giant V peace symbol of the arms of a supporter. Cranston was presented with stacks of signed peace petitions, some of which are on the table in front of him, at a Mill Valley rally yesterday.

Cranston Repeats Perils In Conflict

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., told a peace rally in Mill Valley yesterday that the war in Southeast Asia is "tearing apart Vietnam and Cambodia and is threatening to tear apart the fabric of this country as well."

Peering out from between two hugh stacks of petitions voicing support for peace efforts, Cranston told a group of 125, mostly high school students, that "we have the votes to pass the Cooper-Church amendment," a measure before Congress that would require U.S. soldiers to be out of Cambodia by July 1.

"We have 53 senate votes committed, and I think we'll get as many as 60, so the opposition is planning a filibuster," he said.

California's junior senator was in Mill Valley to accept petitions bearing the names of 43,194 persons supporting the Hatfield-McGovern resolution, another congressional measure which would require all U. S. troops to be out of Southeast Asia by July 1, 1971.

"These petitions represent persons from four states and even foreign countries," said Dr. Lawrence Beck, a leader of the Mill Valley Peace Action Council. He read one which had been sent from Cambodia bearing the names of nine American soldiers participating in the allied sweep there.

"I'm glad to be at this gathering, which the vice president (Spiro T. Agnew) would call a riot," Cranston said. "We need people like you to keep the pressure on your representatives and senators to end the war. If you can't change the mind of your elected representative about this war, then you should change your representative."

Cranston said he believes the U. S. will be out of Cambodia by July 1 because "you and others like you have made plain their beliefs that it was an act of folly to go into Cambodia in the first place."

It is not proper to leave the pursuit of the war to the president alone, Cranston declared. "We need to return to the constitutional right of the Congress to make war and peace," he said. "This is not a one-man government: this is a democracy.

He urged those present to "see to it that California has two senators, not one, who are devoted to achieving peace in Southeast Asia. I urge you onward," he concluded, flashing the V-sign.

In the 1850s, Mountain Lake in San Francisco, a natural body of water, was an important part of the city's water supply.

Israel Claims 18 Guerrillas Killed

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli troops killed 10 Syrian guerrillas early today after the Syrians crossed into Israeli territory from Jordan, the military command announced.

It was one of the highest tolls of Syrians claimed by the Israelis in a single clash since the 1967 Middle East war.

No Israeli casualties were reported.

A spokesman said the guerrillas crossed the Jordan River near the Maoz Haim settlement 12 miles south of the Sea of Galliee and apparently were headed toward the settlement when patrolling Israeli troops encountered them.

Arizona Firm Bids Low On Corte Madera Creek Job

An Arizona firm is low bidder on the next phase of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project.

J B and C Co. of Scottsdale bid $1,154,128 for Phase 3A, which will take the flood control channel from College Avenue in Kentfield to a point 200 feet downstream from the Ross post office. The Army Corps of Engineers' estimate was $1,333,333.

Four other Bay Area bidders were all about the estimate when bids were opened by the corps Wednesday. Elmer J. Freethy Co. of El Cerrito, which built the last phase, bid $1,619,778. Other bidders were Hensel-Phelps Construction Co., Burlingame, $1,657,156; C. R. Frederick, Inc., Novato, $2,116,659, and Murphy-Pacific Enterprises, Emeryville, $2,212,137.

The contract will be awarded after a survey is made of the bidder's responsibility and after Marin County puts up required funds to meet extra costs to handle a sewer line along the creek and bridges at College of Marin and a Kentfield convalescent home, said Dean Hansen, assistant chief of the Army engineers' construction operations division. Award date probably will be around June 5, he said.

The contract allows the work to be completed over two seasons. In the 1970 season, J B and C would be required to complete the channel to a point 600 feet upstream of Laurel Avenue. That would be the bulk of the project.

Johnson Historic Site Dedication Set

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Lyndon Baines Johnson National Historic Site, honoring the place where the former President was born and grew up, near the present LBJ ranch will be dedicated at Stonewall, Tex., June 13.

Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel said he would formally accept deeds to the property encompassing a reconstructed birthplace, the Samuel Ealy Johnson farmhouse and Lyndon Johnson's boyhood home.

Independent-Journal Selects Don Pinkerton as best Republican for State Senate!

Informed voters know why!

EDITORIAL PAGE San Rafael, Calif. Thursday, May 21, 1970

"Pinkerton cannot be said to represent any segment of the party. But because of this, he my represent the whole party the best of any . . ."

"PINKERTON . . . has served four years on the Fairfield City Council, to which he was elected by the largest margin in the city's history."

" . . . he has been appointed by Governor Ronald Reagan to the Water Quality Control Board, Bay-Delta Division, and to the California Housing and Community Development Commission."

"His other activities show his wide interests not only in his own county but in all of the Marin-Solano-Napa senate district and, in fact, all of the Bay Area. He is a member of the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission, the Bay Area Health Planning Commission, the Bay Area Airport Study Commission."

"He believes — and proves it by his activities—in regional cooperation but local control, in strong law enforcement but ample programs for youth, in environment control but economic development. He is awake to the problems of the region — which are the problems also of Marin County."

"For many years, the Fourth Senatorial District was composed solely of Marin. That is no longer so, and it must be viewed in wider perspective. So we do not hesitate to endorse Don Pinkerton of Fairfield as the best all-around Republican candidate . . ."

Follow the leader for an important Republican victory!

Reed School Tax Figures Countered

Figures and claims by the Reed School District Committee for Better Education were countered today by the Reed School District Tax Election Committee and the chairman of the district's trustees.

The "bettter education" committee, opposing an increase of 60 cents in the district's general operating tax limit which is on the ballot Tuesday, charged that Reed schools are "over-housed and under-pupiled." It said there will be 20 surplus classrooms next fall.

The tax election committee, headed by Mervin D. Field, countered that only eight classrooms will be surplus. Leo Souza, chairman of the district board of trustees, reported:

"The board of trustees has declared that eight rooms are surplus: four at the Granada School and four at the Tiburon School. Now that the Tiburon School is to remain open, there will be four surplus rooms elsewhere, probably at the Reed School."

The issue of surplus classrooms does not arise in the tax election, said Fields' committee, because it was settled when a bond issue to build Reedland Woods School was approved. "Advance planning usually results in some extra classrooms in the cycle of opening new schools," said his committee's statement.

The antitax committee, headed by Mrs. Gail Bost Rey, said that although a 60-cent tax limit increase is asked, budget figures call for only a 35-cent increase.

Said Souza:

"The board of trustees has declared that $175,000 of additional funds are required. We are now informed that approximately $50,000 of this amount will be derived through the recent increase in property assess valuations. An increase of 25 cents in the tax rate will provide the balance of $125,000. If the June 2 tax proposal is approved, the board has already voted that it will not levy a tax rate to exceed this amount."

Electrical Union Votes RCA Pact

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — RCA Corp. said today the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, had ratified a new contract covering 20,000 workers in six states.

A spokesman said the new contract, running to Dec. 1, 1973, provides for wage increases and fringe benefits.

He did not give specifics, and union negotiators were not available for comment.

The workers are at 12 RCA plants in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Ohio, Indiana and California.

The present contract expires June 1.

Driver's Elbow Hurt

William Cirby, 48, of 64 Bothin Road, Fairfax, was treated at Marin General Hospital last night for a cut elbow suffered when he lost control of his car and hit a tree near Ross General Hospital while driving west on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at 11:25 p.m., Ross police reported.

Gate Fees Change For County Fair

Adults will pay more, but youngsters will get a break at the entrance gate of the Sonoma-Marin Fair this year.

According to Arthur F. Canavan, fair manager, adults will pay $1 while youngsters 12 and under will be admitted free. Teens between the ages of 13 and 16 will pay 50 cents.

Last year adult fairgoers paid 75 cents and youngsters 25 cents. Canavan said the price hike was necessary to make the fairgrounds more self-supporting.

The fair is slated for June 25-28 at the fairgrounds in Petaluma.

A San Francisco Post For Riles?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Wilson C. Riles, candidate for state superintendent of public instruction, says he has been asked to apply for a post as San Francisco school superintendent.

Riles, a Negro, said in an interview Thursday, however, that he "hasn't gotten around to doing it" because of his campaign duties.

The $38,500-a-year San Francisco school job became vacant with the March 25 resignation of Dr. Robert Jenkins who quit to become president of a new Los Angeles firm.

Marinite Is Among Collegians Nabbed

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — A Mill Valley student at the University of California at Berkeley was among a group of 23 students and nonstudents arrested yesterday when they tried to attend a private disciplinary hearing on the campus.

Leslie Louise Fabre, 21, who told police her address was 902 Hill Green Road, Mill Valley, was booked at the campus police station on suspicion of obstructing a peace officer in the performance of his duty and creating a disturbance on the campus.

(There is no Hill Green Road in Mill Valley. However, a Leslie Fabre is listed in the telephone directory as living at 405 Eldredge Avenue, Mill Valley.)

She was free on $500 bail and scheduled to appear in Berkeley-Albany Municipal Court today.

The group attempted to attend a hearing for David Wolfinsahn, 23, a UC student and an official of Students for a Democratic Society.

Scouts Will Provide Guards

Taking part in Memorial Day observances, scout units will provide honor guards tomorrow for each flag raising planned at public buildings in Marin, Boy Scout officials report.

Honor guards also will be provided on Flag Day and Independence Day.

Marin scouts and leaders, some 6,000 in all, have been asked to display the flag at home during the holiday.

Scout units also have been asked to write the North Vietnam government to urge humane treatment of American prisoners of war, release of their names, inspection of prison camps and free flow of mail to prisoners, said William Sherwood, scout executive for the Marin Council.

Child So Allergic He Can Hardly Eat

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP) — Anthony van Rensburg, 7, may not have all the allergies going, but he has 30 known ones. Doctors say he must avoid eggs, milk grass, wool, flowers, bristles, moss, cereals, cats, rabbits, dogs and an assortment of high protein foods. He can have fruit and candy, however, and his parents are hopeful that he is growing out of at least a few of his allergies.

Staff Is Reduced, But Workload Up

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The state Office of Architecture and Construction has reduced its staff by 24 per cent and increased its work by 42 per cent in two years, the state General Services Department reported today.

State Architect Fred Humel said this was "in line with the Reagan administration's policy to improve efficiency and lower operating costs."

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Whittaker Shares Due For Gradual Recovery

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I have 50 shares of Whittaker Corp. bought in September at 22⅞. Do you think it has a chance for recovery? — C.B.

A. Yes, eventually. Capitalization is heavy with 19.8 million common shares, 484,000 preferred, long-term debt of $178.9 million and 1.8 million warrants. An additional 6.7 million common and 542,000 warrants were registered in February. Cost of debt servicing in a time of soaring interest rates has reduced profits.

Although government business accounts for only 25 per cent of sales, Whittaker has been affected by cutbacks in federal spending. Management hopes to reduce government business to 20 per cent this year. Sales in the January quarter of the current fiscal year were up 31.4 per cent. However, rising costs and other factors mentioned above reduced this margin, so that earnings gained only 14.3 per cent to 29 cents a share, up from 26 cents.

Results for both years were reported on a fully diluted basis. 1970 interim earnings included two recently acquired companies but excluded three operations discontinued recently. Corporate philosophy of building a core company with partially owned, publicly held satellite firms could prove to be a very successful concept. Hold for gradual recovery.

Q. I was advised to purchase shares of Hexcel in 1967 at 71¾. It is way down. Do you see any recovery? — P.J.

A. Hexcel Corp.'s consistent sales and earnings growth was interrupted in mid-1968 due to production delays and cutbacks in some aircraft programs. However, management has sought to diversify and lessen company concentration on the aerospace market. In 1967 commercial customers accounted for only 30 per cent of total sales, now such markets account for 65 per cent.

For the three months ended March, 1970, net income advanced more than three-fold year-to-year on a 12 per cent gain. Per share earnings were reported at 20 cents up from 6 cents in 1969. Because of the emphasis being placed on new markets, Hexcel may be on the way to renewed growth. However, future prospects are clouded. Stock has potential for recovery but will take time.

Wall Street Has Another Big Day

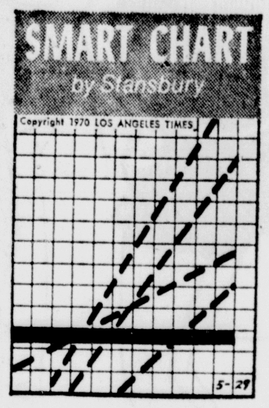

NEW YOR K (UPI)—Wall Street had another big day today as the Dow Jones Industrial Average climbed more than 14 points after early profit taking evaporated. Trading was brisk.

Shortly before the final gong, the barometer 30 selected blue chips showed a gain of 16.29 at 700.44, bringing its advance over the past three sessions to more than 65 points.

A turnover of around 14.5 million shares compared with 18,910,000 shares Thursday, the heaviest trading of the year.

A four-hour turnover of 9,760,000 shares compared with 13,630,000 shares which changed hands at a comparable period yesterday.

Newton Zinder, analyst for E. F. Hutton and Co., said "short covering and new buying" set in when the market showed reluctance to give up any of its recent historic gains.

"Yes, a few under-financed upstarts have entered our field."

Potato Chip Price Fixing Charged

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury has indicted four companies for an alleged price-fixing conspiracy in the multi-million dollar snack food markets in California, Arizona and Nevada.

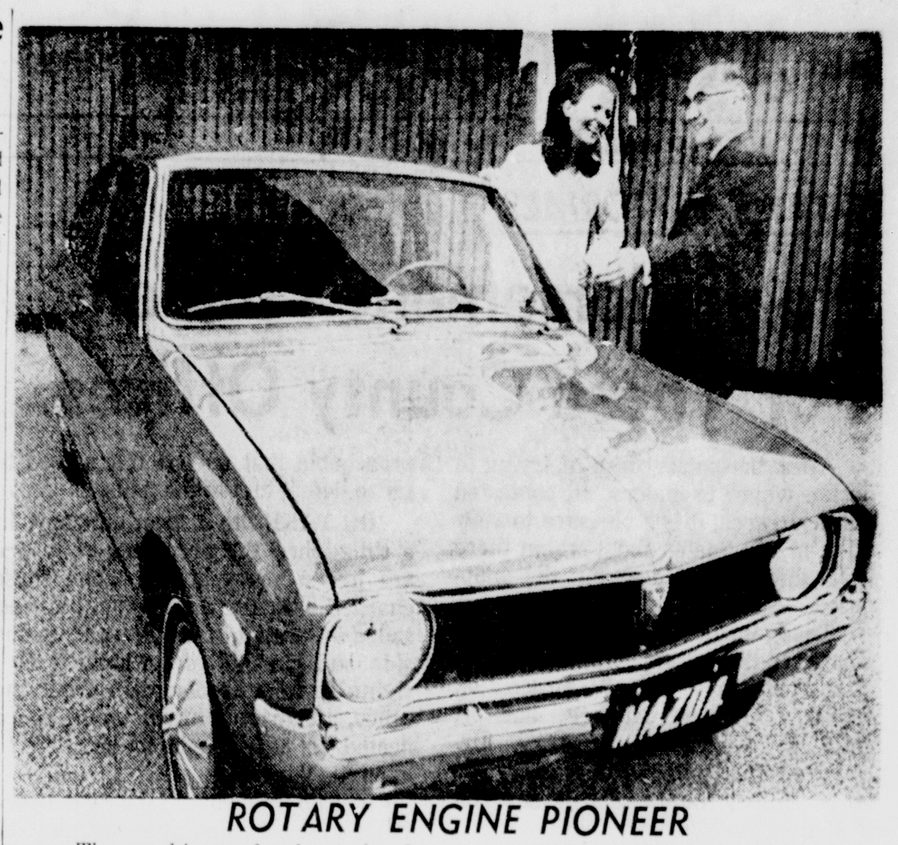

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said the indictment was returned Tuesday in U.S. District Court in Los Angeles against Frito-Lay Inc., Dallas; the now-extinct BBF Liquidtating Inc., Santa Fe Springs, Calif.; Granny Goose Foods, Inc., Oakland, and Pet, St. Louis, Mo.

They were accused of conspiring from 1959 until now to raise and fix the retail prices of potato chips, barbecue-flavored chips, corn chips and tortilla chips.

The maximum penalty upon conviction could be a $50,000 fine.

Computer Reserves

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

TODAY'S EDITORIALS

No Endorsement Problem For These County Offices

After the painful task of trying to decide whom to endorse in contested political races, it is a pleasure to view a list of candidates about whom there is no difficulty of decision: the unopposed.

These include this year George H. Gnoss, county clerk; Bruce B. Bales, district attorney; Bert W. Broemmel, assessor; Michael Mitchell, auditor; Noel T. Giacomini, recorder, Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, coroner, and Virgil S. Hollis, county schools superintendent.

We add to this list Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos. Although Mountanos's former deputy, A. V. (Pat) Menjou, filed for the office, he has made little or no campaign and cannot be considered a serious contender.

IT IS, IN EFFECT, a tremendous vote of confidence in these incumbent officials that they run for re-election unopposed.

Take, for instance, the county assessor. He draws blame whenever someone's property is reappraised at a higher figure. And in Marin, that happens with considerable frequency.

Yet Bert Broemmel's record of fairness and integrity is such that no one thought it worth while even to try to unseat him.

Or take the county auditor. Michael Mitchell is a man who guards the funds he oversees without fear or favor. He does not hesitate to challenge anyone, from elected board of supervisors to appointed county administrator, on anything that he considers irregular. He has ruffled enough feathers at the Civic Center alone that it might be expected there would be political enemies after his job.

Yet Mitchell's record is so irreproachable that no one felt moved to try to defeat him at the polls.

OR TAKE the district attorney. In a time when the processes of justice are under heavy attack, when those charged with law enforcement are assailed by cries for crackdown from one side and laments for stretching civil rights to include disorders from the other, a district attorney would be expected to face tough competition to keep his job.

Yet no one considered Bruce Bales's record vulnerable enough to be worth the challenge.

The sheriff is under similar pressures and subject to similar complaints in his law enforcement roll. Yet, since the lone challenger has not even pushed his campaign, we must conclude he considered the possibility of unseating Lou Mountanos to be too slight to be worth much effort.

The coroner's office has been contested hotly in some past election years. But this time, nobody thought Dr. Cooke's performance offered enough possible cause for dissatisfaction to try to defeat him.

County clerk, recorder, and schools superintendent are attractive political jobs. But no one in Marin County is trying to unseat George Gnoss, Noel Giacomini, or Virgil Hollis.

IN A WAY, we dislike to see so many incumbents run unopposed. Healthy competition keeps our office holders on their toes to do their jobs better.

But the fact that all these will be re-elected without any challenge, without any campaign, speaks very well for the men whom Marinites have put into office in past elections. It is, in effect, an accolade to their performance.

Suddenly Carnivorous

During the late fall and winter Marin's insect eating birds are largely vegetarian. Such a great and famous lover of worms as the robin dines frugally on berries.

But when spring comes, bringing with it insects, the insect-eaters become once more carnivorous .Most small land birds live on insects this season. And practically all feed their nestlings on worms and insects, sourc of protein necessary for healthy growth.

There is a moral in this. It is, don't use too much insecticide if you want the birds. The two are firmly linked.

Speaking Of Figures

The users of automobiles are largely responsible for fouling our air, but there isn't a great deal that they, personally, can do about that.

And sometimes we wonder whether the average driver cares enough to deserve clean air. This rather harsh observation was prompted by reading that along every mile of main highway in the U.S., drivers and their passengers dropped 16,000 pieces of litter last year.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Reagan Support Widely Claimed

For a month we have been hearing underground rumors that Don Pinkerton was supported by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Now we have received a Peter Behr newspaper which says he is on the Reagan team for 1970.

Are these two candidates sharing a governor, or is it possible that both are in error?

Sensible voters know the governor does not endorse in a primary, and a candidate who attempts to make it appear he has such an endorsement is deliberately misleading the public.

MILTON W. SCHWARTZ

(At a candidates' forum on Wednesday, Raymond H. Shone sought to make it appear his candidacy has Governor Reagan's blessing. So the voter can take his choice. — Editor.)

Should Poll Police, Not Attorneys

I read with limited interest the results of the local attorneys' poll on the qualifications of the 12 municipal court judge candidates.

Considering that 95 per cent of all those arrested are guilty (a statistic on record at the Hall of Justice) the role of many of these attorneys is (1) to get the defendant off, or (2) have his charge reduced. (Question: Is it justice to encourage a client to plead guilty to a lesser crime (charge) rather than face the penalty of the original charge — i.e. having committed burglary, admit to petty theft?)

The poll that would be of true value to our voters is that of the county's law enforcement officers. They often put their lives on the line; regularly track down and arrest the offender, only to have him released by our courts before his (the arresting officer) report is filled out. It is the policeman's poll on the qualifications of the judicial candidate which I would really like to see!

City Owns Land For Fire Station

To clarify a point in your story on page 7 of the May 25 issue of the I-J regarding use of city-owned land for larger fire station headquarters and the old station as a senior citizens' headquarters, thus saving taxpayers money. . .it was left out of the article the very important point that the city owns property at Fourth and Union across from Station 2. This property could be utilized for the headquarters, communications, recreation area, storage of vehicles, etc. thus making Station 2 adequate for the necessary fire fighting equipment. It would have to be enlarged but there is plenty of room. . .

Parade Right Way To Make Point

In anger or frustration many times I thought I would write a letter to the Independent-Journal. I am finally writing one but it is with pleasure.

Bouquets, very large bouquets, to the organizers, the PTA and the children who took part in the parade Saturday for the school taxes.

It was wonderful to see a parade requesting, not demanding, people smiling and happy, not breaking windows or harassing anyone.

Whether one is for or against the taxes, it must be admitted in this time of turmoil, it was a wonderful thing to witness. From the tiniest tot, the teen-agers, the young adults and others, the lesson they gave us is, there is a right way to gain your point.

May God bless them all!

Bond Means Double Tax For Some

I would like to point out to your readers that there is a gross inequity that will be imposed on the residents of San Rafael living north of Puerto Suello Hill if the San Rafael sewer bond issue, Proposition B on the ballot, is passed. This bond will be issued by the City of San Rafael, and thus have to be paid for by us north of the hill as well as the benefactors south of the hill. The north side of the hill is being served by the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District. Approximately 5,000 people in the LGVSD also fall within the city limits. These people, myself included, are already paying 11 cents on their tax rate to pay off the LGVSD bond issue of 1955. We are now being asked to help pay for a second sewer service that cannot possibly serve us. We will be taxed doubly for sewer service if this bond passes.

I recognize the great need for this particular improvement to the San Rafael sewer system. However, the improvement should be made with financing obtained by bonds issued in the name of the San Rafael Sanitary District, or in the name of a municipal improvement district. . .

I diligently follow the San Rafael City Council meetings as reported in your paper, and have seen no reference to this aspect of this bond issue. We think this is shabby treatment of San Rafael citizens north of the hill . . .

ALFRED M. PETROFSKY
President
Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District
San Rafael.

Nixon's Actions Become Liability To GOP Congressional Candidates

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Two reasons explain why it will be difficult for President Nixon to recover enough from his present political setbacks to give the Republicans any lift in the November elections. He may even be a liability.

One is that, quite beyond the furor over Cambodia, the President's ability to achieve any of his priority goals — control of inflation, safety against recession, reduced crime, racial peace — is thrown into doubt at least temporarily. Richard Nixon is hurting on all fronts simultaneously.

The second reason is that the administration is presently losing some confidence within its natural constituency — businessmen who are deepy worried about the trend of the economy and workers who see inflation continue to go up and employment continue to go down.

And large numbers of the young war protesters are out to help elect congressmen of their liking. This will serve more Democrats than Republicans.

THE DEMOCRATS are moving to make political capital of Mr. Nixon's present troubles. They know that a strengthened Democratic Congress would give them a needed comeback impetus for 1972. Since the party controlling the White House usually loses seats in the off-year congressional voting, a presently unpopular Nixon makes a bad outlook worse.

Right now there seems little the President can do to improve his standing and the prospects of his party but wait — wait and hope that his past actions will bear fruit in time.

But Nixon policies must show progress on several fronts if he is to succeed in repairing his political support in time to affect the congressional voting.

The Cambodia action could prove visibly justified in the coming weeks, saving lives, reducing the pressure on the South Vietnamese, and permitting an even faster withdrawal of American forces.

But even this won't enable President Nixon to win back the eroding confidence and support of his middle-class constituency if, in his attempts to halt inflation, unemployment goes much above 5 per cent and a serious recession appears to be in the making.

THE PRESIDENT is committed to the goals of reducing crime, balancing the budget, quieting the turmoil in the nation, and proving to the blacks by deed that he is dedicated to achieving racial justice.

But crime is not abating, turmoil is mounting, blacks do not feel he is acting effectively in their behalf, the predicted budget balance is proving illusory, and it appears that the country is still being torn apart, not brought together.

No longer can the President make any headway by trying to focus public resentment on the past with the argument, however valid, that he inherited the war, inherited inflation, inherited the turmoil. To his credit he isn't doing so, and he couldn't succeed if he tried.

TO RECOVER from his present political low in time to help elect Republicans to Congress, Nixon will have to make good soon on at least two of his priority commitments — a faster timetable for Vietnam withdrawal and reduced inflation.

President Nixon's natural supporters among middle-class workers might accept some increase in unemployment if it resulted in some decrease in the cost of living but they are not likely to stay with him in the face of rising unemployment and rising inflation.

As far as Mr. Nixon's own future is concerned, he still has time — from now to 1972 — for events to show his policy is successful.

But the administration's greatest present worry is that the result will not come soon enough to avert a serious political setback this fall.

MARIN POLITICS

Here A Poll, There A Poll In Frenetic Campaign Days

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

It is a poor candidate who cannot come up with a poll on which he is leading.

In the same mail this week arrived poll reports from the headquarters of two candidates for the Republican nomination for state attorney general: Evelle J. Younger and George Deukmejian.

Younger headquarters reported Mervin D. Field's California Poll showed Younger favored by 33 per cent of Republican voters, Deukmejian by 14 per cent, Spencer Williams by 12 per cent, and John L. Harmer by 9 per cent.

Deukmejian headquarters had quite a different result. It reported a private poll (by whom was not stated) gave Deukmejian 34.8 per cent, Harmer 26.6 per cent, Younger 12.6 per cent, and Williams 8.3 per cent.

Sorry, but we received no poll results this week from the Williams or Harmer headquarters.

IF YOU LIVE in the First Supervisorial District and have not been receiving all the campaign literature for candidate Paul C. Zucker, or if you live in the Fifth Supervisorial District and have been missing some of that for candidate Arnold Baptiste, there's a reason.

These twin campaigns have been using lists of Sierra Club members in Marin County as mailing lists. As a result, many Sierra Club members who live in the Second, Third or Fourth Supervisorial Districts have been getting literature for candidates in the First and Second districts — which they perhaps will be happy to pass on to residents of those two districts who haven't received it.

THIS IS THE frenetic stage of the campaign. As "E Day" draws near, candidates and their workers become uptight over all sorts of things. The fancied slur or misrepresentation takes on ominous meanings for them.

A campaign brochure and biography put out for Jack L. Blaine, candidate for municipal court judge, said he was "associated with Hiram Johnson in the practice of law before and after World War II." Two weekly papers, endorsing Blaine, made the obvious inference: that "Hiram Johnson" meant the late governor and senator. They reported Blaine "was once associated with U. S. Sen. Hiram Johnson."

Along came Hiram W. Johnson III, the governor-senator's grandson, to assert that Blaine was never associated with his grandfather. And a rival judge candidate quickly circulated this disclaimer.

Blaine's explanation is that he was an associate of Hiram Johnson Jr. both before and after his wartime army service, but did indeed briefly clerk in the office of Hiram the Elder.

Also in the busy race for judge, candidate Tom Thorner alleges that the names of three of his supporters, Eugene Doyle, Thomas Doyle, and James D. Hadfield, were used without authorization in an advertisement for a rival candidate, Harry E. Rice.

Then, of course, there is the usual clamor by candidates that the forces of rival candidates are tearing down or covering up their campaign signs.

A READER reports what he calls a mind-boggling combination of bumper strips: on one side, "Behr for State Senator," and on the other, "Support Your Local Police"

Get that man, Hugh Pessner!

Sausalito Radicals Plot Revolt– Except, They're Really Merchants

The setting was just right for a Sausalito Chamber of Commerce meeting — a conference room in the plush Alta Mira Hotel and 40 or so solid business types — but if anyone had wandered into that assemblage by mistake Wednesday morning, what was being said probably would have convinced him that this was a group of student radicals plotting against the government.

And that, in a sense, was what they were doing. Merchants all, they had gathered to protest, and protest violently, the city council's decision to sandbag two blocks of Bridgeway in a three-month test of a parking ban.

Of course, they weren't objecting for the same reasons that radicals would have. They mainly were uptight because the elimination of parking between Princess and Anchor streets had caused their business to drop off.

SOME OF THEIR comments illustrate what could be considered the group's radical feelings: "We're beyond the point of saying, 'please, please, please' to the council. We have to say, 'Do it our way or else.'" This comment was from a conservatively dressed man.

"We must organize if we are going to get our demands — and that's what they are, demands," another said, although he didn't call them non-negotiable.

A third person called for a "one-day business strike. Maybe if the council sees that the city will lose money then it will be more cooperative."

SALLY STANFORD, a vehement opponent of the sandbagging and a frequent city council gadfly, said several things the group wanted to hear.

"It's time we stopped being namby-pamby and told those jokers how we want things run," she said. "What have they done for this town? Not a thing." There were general cries of agreement. "Right on!" a matronly woman called.

Having struck such a responsive chord, Miss tSanford continued: "Why wait to settle this? I have a truck. Let's go down there and tear out those sandbags. I could use them to line the creek on my ranch."

"Yeah, they can't arrest us all," someone agreed, but most didn't feel like marching down to Bridgeway and attacking the source of their frustration quite so directly. "They might bust us," one woman said.

AND SO IT WENT. Businessmen, pillars of the community, nibbled on sweet rolls and sipped coffee and talked about recalling the three city council members they felt were unsympathetic to business — Wyman Hicks, Stephen F. Fraser and Alexander R. Imlay.

"It's time we took a vigilante attitude," said Robert D. Bauerle. "We must organize and get an attorney to fight this and begin forcing the city to do things our way, because if it weren't for us the city wouldn't have any money."

His hard line apparently so delighted the radicals — er, merchants — that they promptly appointed him to head a committee to work toward purging Bridgeway of the hated symbol of the Establishment's arbitrariness — the sandbags.

BUT THIS MOVE gave them away. Attorneys, committees, more talk, attempts to reason — these aren't the tools of radicals. Radicals would have decided what was wrong and attacked it forthwith.

Still it would be a mistake to underestimate the power of the Bridgeway brigade. Radicals they may not be, but I have the feeling they know how to get things done. Watch for the sandbags to be gone before long.

Abortion Should Be Up To Woman

Your recent editorial on abortion contains conclusions with which many people disagree.

You deplore "unlimited legalized abortion." Yet every child has the right to be a wanted child, and every woman should be able to decide the use to which she puts her body. Whether a woman has an abortion ought to be a decision made by her and her physician; the government should have no right to insist that a woman have a child against her will . . .

In the same editorial you deplore the fact that many women are given financial help in having an abortion under Aid to Families of Dependent Children. Unfortunately, it is easy only for the well-to-do woman to obtain an abortion in California. A medically indigent woman seeking an abortion cannot get the medical care she needs simply because she needs it. She must fit into some "category", whether it is a suitable one or not.

Let us hope that soon the government will not be involved in the making of a purely medical decision, and that receiving the financial help required for an abortion will be a simple and not a demeaning process.

4-H Clubs Protest Death Sentence

Recently in the Independent-Journal there appeared an article that our county administrator, Mr. Alan Bruce, has recommended abolishing the county office of the farm and home advisors . . .If Mr. Bruce's recommendation is followed through, this will end all 4-H Club activities in Marin County as of July 1, 1970.

The 4-H Club is a voluntary national organization for children and teen-agers, dedicated to the teaching of various skills, leadership and citizenship. Marin County has a membership of over 1,000 young people participating in 4-H Club work with some 400 volunteer adult leaders such as myself. Technical and organizational advice is furnished . . .by our farm advisor and home advisor, whose salaries are paid by the University of California. The Marin County taxpayers furnish office space and secretarial help . . .amounting to $17,648.85. This amounts to less than $18 per year, per youth, for a program that frequently launches members on their lifetime vocation, teaching them responsible leadership and good citizenship in a time when they might be less productive and more destructively employed . . .Yet here is a man known as the county administrator who would like to put an end to this organization here in Marin County.

. . . A petition against the abolishment of these two county advisors is being circulated by 4-H members and leaders, and anyone who hasn't signed the petition and wishes to express their feelings in this matter, please write to your county supervisor. Marin County's youth needs the 4-H Club.

Cost Of Housing Survey Protested

With regard to the recent letter by Mr. Charles R. Leitzell:

In July, 1969, $20,000 was budgeted by San Anselmo as 1/3 of a total cost of $60,000 for master planning for "storm drain, water main and sewage systems."

Scarcely six months later this plan was withdrawn and a request for $40,000 was passed by three members of our council (some costs to be borne by the San Anselmo School District and by the County of Marin) toward a total planning cost of $114,000 for a "master plan for storm drainage" and etc. Virtually the only new element of the almost double-in-cost plan is the "housing element" which calls for "quantifying . . .dilapidation and deterioration in the city" and " . . .all housing units which appear to be in condition warranting special inspection and attention will be identified." "Identified units will be inspected by city building inspectors" and "abatement of violations, and removal of structures which cannot be economically rehabilitated . . ."

On page 2 of the San Anselmo Reconnaisance Report it is stated: "The citizens' committee recognized that San Anselmo is going to face severe problems in financing the needed (?) improvements."

Need more be said?

Bruce Should Learn Of 4-H Club Work

County Administrator Alan Bruce has recommended that the board of supervisors vote to abolish the county office of the farm and 4-H advisor to save tax money. I wonder if he is aware of how many children from broken homes and depreived families are guided and inspired by the very program he is trying to erase. Are today's young people so secure and untroubled that we could even dare to deprive them of the benefits 4-H offers?

I am the community club leader for the 54 members of the Novato Jets 4-H Club and more dedicated to its cause with every passing year. In the four short years that I have been associated with 4-H I have watched the average become superior and, more important, many sad and troubled young people discover a reason for living through this outstanding program. Contrary to popular belief, it is not just a rural arts program, but one that covers almost any field you can name "in depts."

I would like to suggest that Mr. Bruce table this absurd recommendation while he catches up on his homework at the farm and home advisor's office at the Civic Center.

Use Of School For Forum Blasted

On May 18, our daughter, a student at Novato High School, brought home a notice stating that on May 19 the school would "present a forum devoted to our involvement in Vietnam and Cambodia." Perfect timing — no time to object.

The notice also stated: "Students who are absent, but with parental approval, will be given an acceptable excuse." Our daughter stayed home — not only with parental approval, but also parental command. I would rather have her "goof off" at home than at school. I hope that absenteeism was great enough so that it can be considered a protest on the part of both parents and students against any future programs of this type.

It also said: "This issue is of national interest and of paramount importance of the high school students today." . . .In this day of campus unrest, I believe that the school that sticks to its purpose of teaching and classes-as-usual is fulfilling its "paramount" obligation to both the students and the taxpayer.

The forum was not mandatory. Why, then, was it held during normal school hours? If the school and only some students feel that there is a need for this type of program, why not hold it after school? Then those who feel that it is of "paramount" importance would surely attend — and arrange their own transportation home. I could even go along with an assembly lasting an hour or so — but not a whole day! . . .

If an 85-cent tax increase is needed so that this "quality education" can continue — deliver me! . . .

Policeman Has Points For Parents

This is to thank Officer (George A.) Howenstein of the San Anselmo police for a good public service job. He spoke at a parent-teacher session on "Restless Children." His good points told how to be good parents and let them be good kids. Mostly he did a great public relations job for our police force a ta time when some are tearing the image down, as indeed one panel member tried to do. He reminded us a law officer is a human being who likes people and has feelings, and works at it. . .

If we citizens would discourage kids from having to be experts on military and political issues they would be less restless also. The average adult has trouble sorting out the issues to support, let us not push our kids into it too soon.

As for those few who use kids as tools for their political dirty work, let them do it themselves — if they dare.

Abortion Articles Disturb Reader

Your numerous columns in yesterday's (May 18) edition "advertising" abortion were appalling. A loving mother requests a portion of that space!

Barbara Hosmer ("The Abortion Law and Marin County") seems to be very proud of the fact that Bay Area hospitals perform 60 per cent of the therapeutic abortions in our state, and that Marin County doctors are performing an increasing number of them. Her article should do much to raise that percentage to the 100 per cent mark.

You also saw fit to print "A Case History" by Beth Gaeddert. This article made a heroine of this girl while attacking her treatment by hospital staff, doctors, etc. A great deal was made of the cost of her stay — most operations are very costly. Too bad she had to pay $7 for TV rental! Too bad she had to put up with so much inconvenience! Really, such a one-sided story!

Fewer restrictions on abortion laws are not the answer to population control. Let these people inform themselves about the birth control methods available to them, and let them use these methods. Better still, let them practice more abstinence in their love making.

California already is a haven for those on welfare, now must we also be an abortion haven?

I have been informed that our county welfare pays a large portion of the abortion costs for its patients. I object strongly to my tax dollars being used for the murder of innocents.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Signs On Signs Not 'Ticket'; Zensius Choice Excellent One

Fusselman

There are Z's — also some "hot lines" that on cooling are not so hot.

My apologies to Mr. (Ernest C.) Zunino, candidate for municipal judge. On investigation, I found that Paul Zucker's signs had been superimposed on the Zunino signs. When seen from the highway this made it appear that the two Zs had combined their efforts. Not so. I broke a self-imposed rule not to use information phoned in or written to me until I had checked it. As my friend who called in last week wal always very accurate, I opened the envelope containing my copy and added the P.S. There is always a first and last time. This is it.

AS THIS COLUMN appears on Fridays, I am unable to comment on some things I had intended (too close to election day). Too bad. However, I would say that tearing down the signs of your father's opponent for high office is both illegal and unethical especially when the tearer downer is a young adult. And it is also bad that when caught no exposure was made.

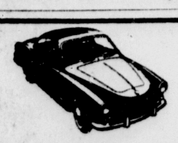

Now about the third Mr. Z: It would be hard to find a better man than Highway Patrolman Paul Zensius for juvenile traffic hearing officer. Congratulations to Judge "Sam" Gardiner and the board of supervisors for overriding Administrator Alan Bruce's stiff-necked stalling tactics. When we think back and remember the times he has juggled appointments and the trouble this has caused, it is hard to even think of offering him a bouquet.

If he is so all-fired righteous this budget year, I would suggest that he make a cash contribution to the county fund from the pile of loot he has so unblushingly tucked away during the last 10 years.

His lowering the boom on the health department's well-baby clinic this year is just about as short-sighted as one can get. Luckily there is time for the department to properly present the importance of this program. Conservationists, I would think, should be extremely interested in this. These little ones should be conserved so as to be able to enjoy the environment — the open spaces and all that . . .

THIS SORT of brings up something that keeps hovering around to be commented on. Consider the two-party system practiced in New York City over the years. Then be glad that local government is non-partisan in this state.

If there is a genuine desire to have good government at the local level, there should be a tapering off of this grim determination to force any philosophical belief on one's fellow man by stuffing boards of supervisors or any other local authority with a particular brand. Great inequities are bound to follow when this occurs.

Hub Budget Talks On Thursday

A tentative 1970-71 budget of $1,365,475, up $295,417 from this year's figure, will be considered by the San Anselmo City Council when it meets in a budget session at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at city hall.

In the budget prepared by Administrator Alfred C. Kaeppel is estimated revenue of $1,409,271, which with existing reserves would leave a reserve of $397,727 at the next year's end.

The budget includes a 6 per cent cost of living pay increase for policemen and firemen, but not the 10 and 15 per cent raises asked by department head for firemen, police and public works employees.

In department budgets, public works asked for 10 per cent raises across the board.

Fifteen per cent raises were asked for the fire chief and assistant chief, police chief, police captain and police lieutenant, and 10 per cent for the other police and firemen.

In his budget message to the council, Kaeppel said the budget would hold the property tax rate at $2.255 per $100, but the hold-the-line budget was arrived at only by eliminating badly-needed items from department budgets and by the 13 per cent rise in the city's assessed valuation.

"It is fairly obvious that any substantial steps forward will depend on funding other than current taxes," Kaeppel wrote.

City revenue would include $642,675 in secured property taxes, $145,000 in sales and use taxes, $22,300 in franchise fees, $24,235 in business licenses, $93,000 in motor vehicle taxes, $225,551 in state, county and federal subventions, and $20,000 in court fines.

The three major department budgets are police, fire and public works, the latter split into several sections.

Kaeppel pared the police request from $555,781 to $294,207, the fire request from $412,375 to $327,268. Public works totals include $36,467 for engineering and administration compared to $42,866 sought; $147,997 for street maintenance compared to $251,471; $143,000 for street construction compared to $155,900, and $10,000 for creekside parking against $54,330 sought.

Kaeppel's other public works recommendations include $27,095 for storm drains, $27,950 for street lighting, $18,455 for the building department, $18,204 for street sweeping, $19,030 for the municipal shop, and $5,200 for traffic signals.

City Engineer Charles R. Leitzell had asked $251,471 for street maintenance and $155,900 for street construction, and reported those amounts would provide for a seven-year street resurfacing schedule. "Each year we fall further and further behind in street maintenance," Leitzell wrote.

In addition to knocking out the proposed raises, Kaeppel's budget eliminates requests by police for another dispatcher and another patrolman, by the fire department for one more fireman, and by public works for two more maintenance men. Also eliminated were $200,000 for a proposed new police building and $42,000 for a new fire engine.

Other proposed department budgets include $63,571 for the library, $24,870 for parks, $16,014 for Robson-Harrington park and mansion, $26,669 for tax-supported recreation, $9,648 for self-funding recreation, $2,562 for senior citizen recreation, $1,000 for teen-agers recreation, $15,660 for the city administrator's office, $17,218 for the city clerk, $14,744 for finance officer, $13,939 for city attorney, $53,661 for the planning commission, and $5,241 for the city council.

In all, Kaeppel whacked $544,859 from departments requests.

Four Dead, Five Missing In Blast

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Aircraft and Coast Guard vessels searched through the night for five men missing in an offshore oil platform explosion and fire in which four were known dead and 15 injured.

A platform storage tank was ruptured, creating an oil slick and threatening contamination of Galveston Island beaches.

Coast Guard Lt. R. E. Harrington said an explosion of unknown origin Thursday on the platform, 12 miles from the coast, apparently set off the fire. Flames quickly spread to a repair boat floating underneath.

Of 17 known survivors out of 26 men in the boat or on the platform, only two escaped injury. Four of the injured were hospitalized.

At Fewest, Five Candidates Appear Qualified For Judge

...equately qualified."
This constitutes a vote of confidence for these men from lawyers who practice in the courts. It must be qualified somewhat, though. The best "attorney's judge" is not necessarily the best "people's judge." And some of the candidates who have not practiced much in Ma... by attorney ...

I believe, that contrary to the current trend, it is time that people who choose to violate the law must be held accountable for their actions!

Bail and probation are a constitutional right and a valuable tool toward rehabilitation; but once an individual has chosen to violate the terms of his probation or he fails to appear as directed by the court, I believe that he has forfeited the right to consideration of additional bail or again being granted probation.

The apprehension of repeat offenders in our Marin County drug sub-culture stands as a frightening testimony to the urgent need for re-evaluation.

I firmly believe that the Court has a dual responsibility in protecting the constitutional rights of the accused, WITHOUT jeopardizing the safety and well-being of society as a whole.

YOU CAN tell by the length of the skirts that this photograph of volunteer Mrs. Russel Chatham, left, and her two Junior Volunteer assistants was taken about the time the hospital opened, some 18 years ago.

IMMEDIATELY AFTER the hospital opened, volunteers included among their duties the preparing of central supply items. This photo was taken in 1953, when volunteers served side by side with hospital staff to help the patients.

THE PINK LADIES, volunteers at Marin General Hospital, helped serve in the original dining facility at the hospital before they raised the money to construct the present coffee shop. Here, in a 1954 photo, Mrs. Raymond Vizzard offers a doughnut to a customer. The Volunteers are now celebrating their 20th year of service.

Volunteers Look Back On 20 Years

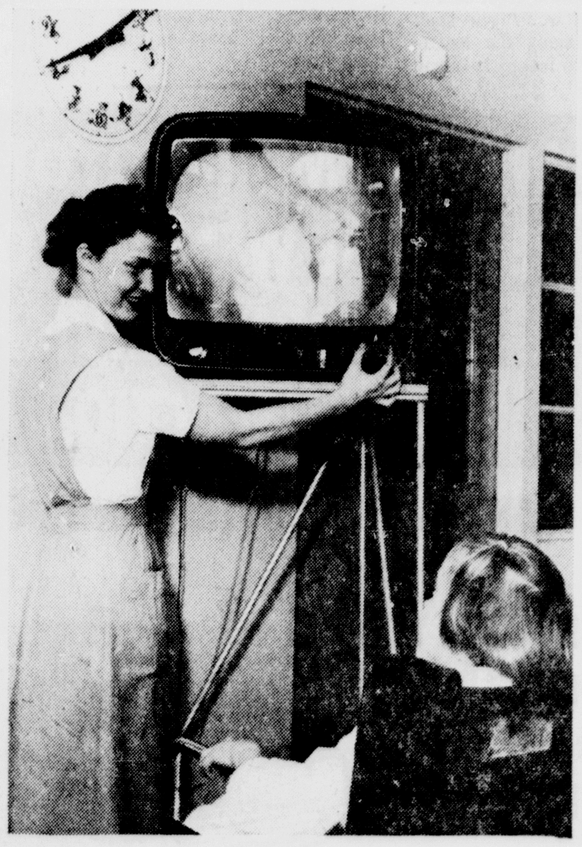

One of the county's most active and widespread organizations, the Marin General Hospital Volunteers, celebrates its 20th anniversary this month, two years before the hospital it serves will have its own 20th birthday.

The Volunteers were organized in the spring of 1950, two years before the completion of Marin General Hospital so that the women could properly develop a program of service to patients, vistors, staff and the public.

Now, 20 years later, the volunteer organization includes more than 1,100 members in two distinct but overlapping groups. They are the Pink Ladies, who serve in the hospital, and the members of the 13 branches who assist the hospital by raising funds for equipment, facilities, scholarships and other beneficial programs.

In their 20 years the Volunteers have served more than half a million hours on a regular basis and have raised thousands of dollars for the Hospital. Marin General is a better hospital because of the Volunteers' efforts, as hundreds of patients can attest.

Some of the original volunteers still serve, both in the hospital and as members of the fund-raising branches.

WITH THE advent of television, life in Pediatrics was made easier, and the Pink Ladies immediately took over the job of providing a set for the young patients. Junior Pink Lady Stefanie Rodrigo tunes the set for a 1958 Pedi patient from Mill Valley.

ONE OF THE volunteer services most enjoyed by patients is the book cart. This photo of Pink Lady Mrs. Lloyd Grandi offering a book to a patient was taken in 1958.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Possible War Between Brothers— One In The Guard, One In College

DEAR HELEN:

Our older son is in the National Guard, our younger son in college. Think what might happen: A college riot. Heaven forbid, another Kent. One son pitted against the other. Perhaps neither of them wants to participate, but one must because he is ordered to, and the other might get caught up in a mob, or be an innocent bystander. Or perhaps he'd be dissenting because he believes that certain things are wrong; and who am I to argue? I hate war, yet here is a possible war between brothers.

I can't fact this somehow: Brother against brother in a country we are all supposed to love and honor. What have we come to? — MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER::

I can only hope we'll come to our senses soon. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

There's a big to-do about truth in packaging, but somehow I still get rooked. I bought what I thought was a bargain in sewing thread — and used the spool up in half the time. Then I looked at the label, and learned (using my glasses on the fine print) that there was less than half the usual amount of thread on a spool twice as thick.

Granted, prices must go up, but honesty should keep pace. I realize this is only a matter of a few pennies lost, to the individual consumer, but think of the profit to the company who camouflages. — IRATE SEAMSTRESS

DEAR SEAMSTRESS:

Write a complaint to the president of the thread company — the address isn't usually on the label but you can get it at your yardage shop. Send a copy to Virginia Knauer, Special Assistant for Consumer Affairs, Federal Office Building Number Seven, Washington, D.C. She was appointed by President Nixon to protect consumers on matters big and small.

(And if you think it's useless to complain, remember back several years ago to the time when 12 ounces of mixed nuts were routinely packaged in one-pound "coffee" type bins. Buyers' rumbles alerted the Weights and Measures people, who made packagers switch to a smaller can.) — H.

DEAR HELEN:

We no longer get rotten or runt strawberries at the bottom of boxes, so how come in prepackaged meat, most of the bone is on the bottom where the buyer can't see it? I've brought home what I thought was enough chops or roast to feed my family, only to discover that hidden bone and fat accounted for maybe one-third of the weight. And this at reputable supermarkets too. I've given up buying bargain pork steaks any more.

I realize I can complain and the market will make it good to keep a customer, but my point is: "Why should it happen in the first place? Most people have neither the time nor the inclination to return inferior products, so they silently accept their loss — and keep right on taking it. — RILEDANDREADYTO FIGHT

DEAR R. AND RFT:

If a complaint to the market doesn't trim down the bottom wastage, call your county weights and measures office, whose inspectors will take the bone in their teeth and get action. — H.

Note To Readers: Seems to be my day for consumer complaints. Sort of a welcome change: I was getting a little weary of those letters which start, "I love my husband (wife) but. . ." then spend four pages telling why he (she) is a louse. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen hlep you.

LEAGUE PRESIDENT:

Liberation Through Political Action

By JOANNE OMANG

AMHERST, Mass. (UPI) — Those bra-burning women's liberationists will get no support from Lucy Wilson Benson, the newly re-elected president of the League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Benson would like to see the women militants get involved instead with problems of a country she sees moving too slowly.

"It is irritating to say the very least that women's pay should be less than men's," she said, "and women ought to be treated as equally as any other group. But this bra-burning is kind of ridiculous."

MRS. BENSON is beginning her second two-year term as president of the powerful 160,000-member national organization. The 42-year-old president spends four days in Washington, league headquarters, and three at her home in Amherst. Her husband, Bruce, is a professor at Amherst College.

"He encourages me in this," she said. "Nobody lives in a vacuum. I couldn't do the things I do if he didn't."

The Amherst group, like the rest of the league chapters, soon will be sponsoring get-togethers that represent various political, racial and other opinion organizations.

"We want these to be meetings where people really sit down and talk out their disagreements," she said. "I'm really concerned about the right to dissent, about getting the various sides of an issue to listen to one another."

UNDER HER direction, the LWV wrote President Nixon "urging him to listen to all of the voices, old and young and city and farm," she said. "The tragedy at Kent State was mentioned as contributing to the turmoil."

The league has taken no official position on the movement of troops to Cambodia nor on the rest of the Southeast Asian question.

"I'm tempted to say I feel exhausted" assuming another term as league president, Mrs. Benson said, "but I won't.

"There's been some movement, but on the whole the country is making progress much too slowly; for example in the area of race relations, in coping with pollution and problems of the environment in general," she said. "There's a serious housing problem and nothing seems to be happening there at all."

A MAJOR new league project this year is a comprehensive study of the U. S. Congress — "how it operates, how it's set up, its relationship with the executive — and how it could be made to do everything better," she added. "This is something entirely new."

She refused to predict what the result and recommendation might be, but said it probably would take about years to untangle the web of function in the seniority and committee systems and other informal but very real aspects of congressional life.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Benson said, the women of the league again will send out their questionnaires to every candidate for state and national public office in the congressional elections, publishing the results to make the candidates' stands known to the public.

"These are very important elections and we're getting geared up to do a great deal of informational work" she said. "I'm not taking the league anywhere; the league is taking me."

ON BEING BLACK

People-Watching Can Hurt

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

From my living room window, where I sit daily at my typewriter, I can see the bar on the corner and its around-the-clock patrons. I see the children waving on their way to school, a tired-looking mother hurrying to catch the 7:40 a.m. bus. From my window, I people-watch.

ON MONDAY — I don't know if he was a boy who was prematurely a man or a man who was still a boy. His brown complexion was smooth and clear, adding to his childlike features. He was almost pretty. He nodded, as if under the influence of drugs.

His walk was alternately bold, then unsteady. His whole demeanor changed back and forth — boy, man, boy, man.

Perhaps I had not yet attuned myself to the cadence of his being, for when he viciously kicked the woman who had just approached him, I winced in pain.

She sat down on my neighbor's lawn.

He walked a few feet from her. Looking back, his expression changed. I thought he would cry. He motioned for her to come to him.

She did not move.

His hand fell to his side, as if made of lead. Turning, he walked away — boy, man, boy, man.

The woman rose, fingered her ankle only momentarily. Adjusting her dress, she walked into the bar.

ON THURSDAY — The little girl of about 4 ran down the street, her shoeless feet barely touching the ground. Behind her came her mother, holding a bloodstained towel to her face. The police stopped them in front of my house.

"What's the problem?" asked one of the officers. "Your husband do that to you?"

Crying, the woman nodded affirmatively.

The husband now stood about half-a-block away, holding the hand of another child.

"Do you want us to take him in, lady? Do you want to press charges?" asked the officer.

The husband walked in their direction. The little girl's eyes widened, and she crouched behind the flower bushes.

"What's your problem?" asked the officer as the husband approached.

"No problem," shrugged the man to the policeman. He gave his wife a venom-filled glance.

Barely controlling his obvious contempt for the man, the officer began deliberately, "Your wife is out here bloody and beaten. . ."

"It's her own fault," he said sullenly. "Besides, it's nobody else's business. . ."

"It's the public's business now," interrupted the officer. "You're out in the streets. It's my business now."

"See," sneered the man at his wife. "You shouldn't have ran out here."

The woman continued to cry.

"Well, lady, do you want us to take him in? We can't do anything unless you're willing to press charges."

"What can I do?" sobbed the woman. "If I do that, when he get out he'll come back and kill me."

The officers and the couple continued to talk. Finally, the couple gathered up their children and headed back in the direction they had come. The officers drove away.

That evening as I was about to close my drapes I saw the little girl again crouched behind the flower bushes.

Some days people-watching hurts.

Red Paint Delegation Of Defiance On Alcatraz

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Vivid red paint splashed on the landward side of the old cell block proclaims today the defiance of the Indians occupying the former federal prison island of Alcatraz in San Francisco Bay.

The 70 or so Indians — including a number of children and infants — face a kind of siege: no more water unless they barge it in themselves, and no electricity.

The General Services Administration, custodian of the island since the prison was phased out in 1963, on Thursday quietly removed the barge used to take water to the island and pump it up into a tank.

"There are at least 70,000 gallons there now, so that should do them for a while," said Thomas E. Hannon, GSA regional administrator. "When that's gone, they'll just have to buy it and barge it over as we did."

Also on Thursday, the underwater cable supplying limited electricity to the island was disconnected, the Indians reported. They said they would miss it most for cooking and would go back to using camp stoves or butane-filled stoves which they have had on the island since they occupied it last Nov. 20.

The GSA withdrew its last custodial personnel from the island Thursday. And the Coast Guard abandoned its lighthouse and replaced it with light and bell buoys offshore.

The government's withdrawal followed its announcement Wednesday that it will proceed with a plan to make Alcatraz part of a Golden Gate recreational area in which Indians would be assigned a prominent role.

"This park business is being shoved down everybody's throat," said Joe Morris, a 50-year-old Blackfoot from Montana who acts as spokesman for the Indians of All Tribes, Inc. occupying the 21-acre island.

"We're going to go ahead with our own damn plans," said another Indian spokesman. "I suppose we'll have to dig in." He said a large pow-wow of all Indians in the Bay Area is scheduled for Alcatraz Sunday.

The Indians rejected the government's park proposal more than a month ago.

From the beginning, they have demanded that the island be turned over to them for an Indian cultural and educational center. They claim possession under an old Sioux treaty which accorded that tribe unused federal property.

Laughter Indicates What Sort You Are

NEW YORK (UPI)—You are what you laugh at, according to French psychiatrist David Victoroff, who made tests on the laughing habits of 700 soldiers, firemen, teachers and students.

Given varying categories of jokes, 72 per cent of the soldiers and firemen preferred the sex joke, a type teachers tended to react to with a tired smile, Victoroff reports in Atlas magazine. About 58 per cent of the teachers preferred the more sophisticated absurd joke, while most students revealed a penchant for grotesque satire.

Antipollution Kudo

CHICAGO (UPI)—The second annual Gold Medal Award presented by The Sports Foundation, Inc. to members of American industry who have made outstanding achievements in water pollution control has gone to Campbell Soup Company for its development of a unique surface filtration system designed to handle waste at its plant in Parisl Tex.

Council Gives Foot Unit Tentative Nod

Sausalito city councilmen last night tentatively agreed to add three men to the police department to provide foot patrol in the downtown area.

Councilmen, meeting as a finance committee, emphasized the decision wasn't final as they reviewed the proposed $357,593 police department budget for 1970-71, up $58,829 from this year.

Police Chief James D. Wright explained with three men he could provide daily foot patrol.

The problems downtown were mainly harassment such as panhandling, blocking stairways, outdoor drinking and profanity, the chief explained.

Chairman Wyman Hicks questioned whether the offense warranted spending $30,000. "There's nothing going on worth $30,000 to me," he said.

Mayor Alexander Imlay said there has been "vocal demand by merchants and residents" for the foot patrol downtown.

Former City Mgr. George A. Patterson had recommended two men for foot patrol, but Chief Wright contended that three were necessary for all-week patrolling.

Councilmen agreed to another new position of typist-transcriber after Chief Wright explained it would cut overtime costs compiled by officers writing reports about $2,500.

Under the system officers will be able to tape record their reports by telephone from the field, and won't have to spend overtime after their shift typing them up, the chief said.

The police budget also includes $6,002 for the department to set up a new radio system on its own frequency. The existing frequency used by all cities in Marin is overloaded, and at times messages are blocked out, Chief Wright said. Under the new system, the department also will be in countywide communication on a separate frequency.

The capital improvement budget includes $28,000 for adding a first floor wing and remodeling the police station.

Tuesday night councilmen reviewed the public works department budget, which carries a new position in the parks division, a park foreman at $8,797 a year.

Proposed expenditures were administration and engineering division, $42,353, up $8,475, including a new position, a part-time steno clerk at $3,878, and a station wagon, $2,400.

The proposed street and subdrainage maintenance budget was $89,332, up $8,915, including purchase of an engine tester at $2,500.

The proposed trees and parkways division budget was $25,337, up $2,834, and the street lighting and traffic program at $29,732, down $807.

The next budget session covering the library and parks and recreation will be at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at city hall.

Wrangling Continues Over Hilarita Housing Density

By GEORGE NEVIN

Friends and foes of Tiburon's proposed Hilarita apartment project took their accustomed positions last night but failed to sway each other very much.

For almost three hours at an adjourned Tiburon city council meeting, they went back and forth, much of the time over a single issue — the density of the 112-unit moderate income development.

Leading the pro forces were E. Morton Schaffran, housing consultant for the Marin County Ecumenical Association for Housing, the project's sponsor.

The opposition consisted of Allan N. Littman, a member of the city's planning commission, and Herbert E. Wenig, owner of property adjacent to the eight-acre Hilarita site.

The ecumenical association has proposed to demolish the World War II housing project and construct 112 units of apartments. The one-bedroom to four-bedroom units would rent for from between $117 and $181 a month.

Several councilmen and members of the audience questioned the necessity of 112 units on the site but Schaffran stoutly held his ground and insisted that this number was necessary to make the project "economically viable."

"We started out thinking of about 100 units," he said, "but we found the extra 12 made the difference between a development that might go and one that might not."

Schaffran insisted that certain costs remain fixed no matter how many units are built — cost of buying the land, demolishing the present housing and correcting a slide on the property.

"We'll have to eat these costs no matter what you decide about the number of units," he told Mayor Denis T.Rice.

"The more units we have, the more chance the ecumenical association will have to break even and actually go ahead."

With an eye toward lowering the number of units to 100, several persons, including Councilmen Albert H. Sennett and Carlisle Becker, suggested methods of cutting the initial costs so that the income from 112 units would not be necessary to cover them.

But Schaffran firmly maintained that the fixed costs remained, and that the income from every one of the 112 units was needed to make the project work.

"The 12 extra units are vital because they give us a margin," said Ellis Kaplan of the San Francisco architectural firm of Kaplan and McLaughlin. "If you cut us to 110, units, we obviously aren't going to throw in the sponge. But the landscaping and quality of materials will suffer and we'll wind up with an inferior project. We need 112 to be viable."

Aslo discussed was the fate of the persons now living at Hilarita who would be uprooted by the construction. Sennett sought assurances they would be able to move into the new housing upon completion.

"There's no way in the world that a project could be built that was more advantageous to the displaced residents than this one," said Donald O. Stutsman, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority, present owners of the Hilarita site.

"These people are going to be displaced no matter what kind of development is built. But by law we must give them priority in finding new housing. They're the first in line for any vacancies in any public housing in the county," he stated.

But Stusman was unable to satisfy Sennett that the occupants would be able to move into the new housing. "Our best information says that they will. But there's no way of saying for sure."

Later, talk turned to a two-acre site on the property that the association plans to sell to a private developer.

Becker suggested that the money from that sale might be used to pay some of the fixed costs and enable the developer to reduce the number of units.

But Schaffran again explained that the income wouldn't be sufficient to have much effect on the total cost of the project. "We need 112 units," he insisted.

The council will take up the matter at its regular meeting June 8 at 8 p.m. in the city hall.

No Tax Rate Hike Is Forecast In Sausalito

A record $415,448 budget for 1970-71, currently being considered by the Sausalito City Council, will leave unchanged the city's tax rate of $1.315 per $100 of assessed valuation.

The proposed spending program, up slightly from this year's $1,300,304 budget, was prepared by former City Mgr. George M. Patterson before his May 4 departure to become city manager of Escondido, San Diego County.

Patterson's proposals included the addition of four full-time and two part-time employees, including two police officers for a downtown foot patrol; one full-time fireman, a park foreman and two half-time clerk typists.

The council has already tentatively approved the hiring of all the persons recommended by Patterson, plus an additional policeman and fireman.

Patterson had recommended 7.5 per cent across-the-board salary increases for all city employees and 10 per cent salary hikes for city mechanics, police officers, fire captain, fire lieutenant, police sergeants and planning director and a 13 per cent increase for Police Chief James Wright.

Last week the council gave tentative approval to 9 per cent wage hikes for all city employees, 11.5 per cent increases for those recommeded for 10 per cent by Patterson and a 15 per cent raise for the police chief.

The proposed budget expenditures in various areas of city government, not including the salary increases over and above those recommended by the former city manager, are:

General government, $99,222, including city council expenses and recently approved council salaries of $150 a month; city manager, $28,498; civil service, $2,447; finance, $9,512; city clerk, $9,387; city treasurer, $937; city attorney, $12,050; and planning department, $24,520. This year's general government expenses totalled $92,375.

A $640,501 budget, as compared with $556,268 for 1969-70, is estimated for public safety including $357,593 for police; $261,871 for fire department; $9,668 for ambulance and $11,369 for building regulation. Mrs. Hazel Pierachini, city deputy finance officer, said most of the increase is caused by salary hikes and addition of personnel.

The public works budget, including administration and engineering, street improvement, lighting and maintenance, totals $191,002, compared with $170,646 this year.

The proposed recreation and cultural facilities budget of $108,189 includes $30,492 for parks, $14,489 for recreation and $54,208 for the city library. A nondepartmental budget of $213,961 includes $174,445 for miscellaneous expenses; $19,561 for parking meters; $13,700, parking lots, and $6,255 for buildings and land.

A $159,573 capital improvements budget contains $79,900 for public works; $10,000 for parks; $25,443 for fire department remodeling; $28,000 for police station expansion and $15,230 for bond redemption and interest.

Most of the estimated $1,377,290 revenue to finance the proposed budget will come from $788,300 in taxes, according to Mrs. Pierachini. She said estimated secured and unsecured property taxes for the coming year total $410,000, while sales and use tax will yield $280,000.

Licenses and permits, including business and vehicle licenses, $145,000 in revenue from the city's municipal parking lots and parking meter revenues will bring in an additional $294,300, she said.

The city is also expected to derive $142,000 from vehicle, court and parking fines, $11,690 from rent and interest, $9,800 for charges for services, including ambulance and zoning fees and $5,500 from miscellaneous sources such as sale of property.

Sausalito will receive $63,900 in gasoline taxes, $49,000 from motor vehicle fees and $12,800 from alcoholic beverage licenses.

The remainder of the money needed to balance the budget will come from funds carried over, unspent, from this year's city budget, she said. Although it is difficult to estimate what that sum will be, Mrs. Pierachini said last year's carryover was $306,788 and indicated the city can expect a similar amount this year.

Hub School Budget Would Cut Reserves

A deficit 1970-71 budget that would cut reserves by $87,557 was presented to the San Anselmo School District board in a budget session last night.

Supt. Sephen L. Parodi said his tentative budget proposes expenditures of $1,822,764 against income of only $1,735,207. There is expected to be ample money in reserve at the end of this year to cover the difference, he said.

The budget figures are based on the recent 11.6 per cent increase in district assessed value, and property taxes on the secured tax roll would raise an estimated $666,556 of the total.

Parodi said the district property tax rate will remain approximately the same as this year's total of $3.41 per $100 assessed valuation. The tentative budget includes no salary increases.

The board also went into closed session to instruct salary negotiating teams and to discuss hiring to fill two administrative positions, but took no action, Parodi reported.

A meeting was set for 7:30 p.m. Monday to negotiate salaries with teacher representatives. The board's next regular meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Both meetings will be the library of Red Hill School.

Printers Near Pact With Post

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Post and the International Typographical Union have reached an "understanding" on a new contract, it was announced today.

Mrs. Dorothy Schiff, publisher of the tabloid daily, said she had promised Bertram Powers, president of the union's Local 6, not to disclose the results of talks which ended after midnight "until he could report the details of our understanding to his negotiating committee for consideration."

Earlier this week the printers' union won a 41.69 per cent three-year wage increase from The New York Times and the Daily News settled for an identical agreement. Contracts still must be reached with the Post and the Long Island Press.

The printers are one of 10 unions whose contracts with the city's four major dailies expired March 30 and the only one which has reached agreement on a replacement contract.

Mishap Hurts 2 In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A small driverless foreign car rolled silently for two and one-half blocks down a steep grade Thursday before striking a parked minibus which then felled a grandmother and her 2-year-old grandson.

Margaret Bryben, 55, and little David Murtagh, the victims, were in satisfactory condition today at Mission Emergency Hospital.

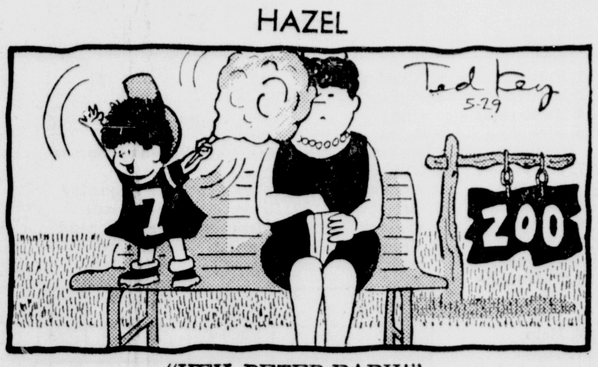

Officers cited Paul Sarkisian, 43, a University of California art instructor, for improper parking on a grade.

Guilty Plea Entered To Reduced Pot Count

Dennis Bruce Williams, 20, of San Francisco, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a reduced misdemeanor charge of possessing marijuana on Dec. 28 in Novato. He had earlier been charged with a felony count of the same offense as well as a count of having a pipe for smoking pot, which was dismissed.

Judge Peter Allen Smith set sentencing for June 19.

Vote Machine Measure Signed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan has signed into law a measure giving the state tighter control over computer voting, and intended to foreclose the possibility of electronic election rigging.

The measure requires, among other things, that communities planning to use computers to count votes, file a copy of the computer "program" with the state in advance.

The program is the information fed into a computer in advance which it uses to identify and sort the election returns when they are later also fed in.

Japanese Court Frees Students

KURE, Japan (AP) — Three leftist students accused of trying to block the transport of ammunition for U.S. forces in Japan were acquitted by a district court today.

Presiding Judge Hideaki Tomigawa ruled that the defendants' action "can be justified" since it is based on their belief the U.S.-Japan security treaty is against the constitution.

The three students squatted on the railway tracks at the nearby Hiro station to prevent the transport of ammunition on July 21, 1968. They were charged with violation of the national railway ordinance and obstruction of official duties.

KCBS endorses Zucker

Following an interview by a five-man editorial board at radio station KCBS with both candidate Paul Zucker and incumbent John McInnis, the station endorsed Zucker with the following editorial statement:

"Attention residents of central Marin County. On June 2 you'll have a chance to choose a supervisor from the First District. KCBS strongly recommends Paul Zucker for that job.

Mr. Zucker is best known for his aggressive concepts involving proper planning. He is a man who can appreciate the need to maintain Marin County's greatest asset, open space, combined with balanced development.

Paul Zucker is a man who has ideas, he generates sparks. He strives to get things done. KCBS has long been a vocal supporter of sound planning and proper conservation practices. In our view Paul Zucker shares an appreciation of these principles.

Because of that we recommend him for the candidate for the First District seat on Marin County's Board of Supervisors.

The situation in Marin is timely. Concern for ecology and environment is very popular today. However as Mark Twain once observed, 'Everyone talks about the weather but no one does anything about it.' We face a similar possibility with ecology and environment.

As we see it, Paul Zucker is the kind of man who is willing and able to do something. He is smart, he is blunt and he is aggressive. His ideas are well constructed and his logic makes sense.

KCBS urges a yes vote on Paul Zucker in the First District of Marin County. Residents of central Marin can do their county a substantial service by electing Paul Zucker June 2."

Oil Firm Bows On Drilling Ban

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Occidental Petroleum says it plans no drilling in Santa Monica Bay but does plan to drill a temporary exploratory well on the landward side of Pacific Coast Highway adjacent to the Palisades.

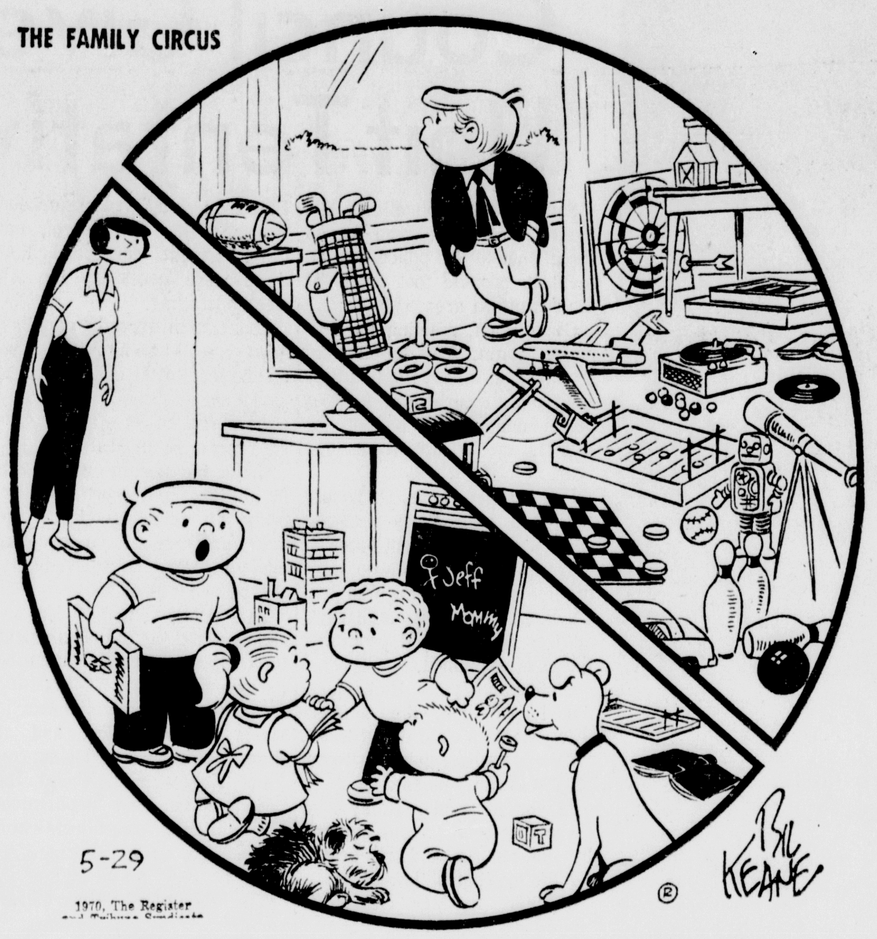

Eugene F. Reid, executive vice president, said Thursday the firm favors legislation which would prohibit the installation of drilling platforms in the bay.

Reid said the exploratory well will be located at the bottom of the cliffs northwest of the old Cliff House Motel and that if it proves successful a permanent installation will be built there.

Holmes Irate: Opportunity Knocks But Player Is Deaf

"It is my belief, Watson," Sherlock Holmes complained, "that the lowest and vilest alleys of London do not present a more dreadful record of sin than does this smiling and beautiful bridge club."

And the great detective got to his feet and stalked out of the Baker Street Bridge Club after witnessing the hand shown today.

East dropped the eight of clubs at the first trick and then played the deuce on West's ace.

Thus encouraged, West led a third club to the queen.

East returned a trump to the king, and declarer drew another trump with the ace. Now South's only task was to draw the last trump.

Declarer led dummy's top hearts and East dropped the queen, hoping South would think he could safely lead a third heart from dummy.

But South took the top diamonds and led a third diamond, ruffing safely in his hand.

It was the work of a moment to draw the last trump with the queen, and South then claimed the last two tricks.

GOOD FALSE CARD

"I thought the queen of hearts was a dashed good false card," Dr. Watson said as he caught up with the detective at the door of the club.

"So it was," Holmes agreed.

"Very well indeed."

"Then why are you so bitter?"

WEST WAS DEAF

"Opportunity knocked, but West didn't hear it," Sherlock Holmes rasped.

"West couldn't defeat the contract unless South had three losing clubs. West should lead a low club at the second trick so as to win the third club with the ace. Then he leads a fourth club, and East ruffs with the jack.

"This drives out the queen, and West eventually gets the setting trick with the ten of spades. A defense like that would have made Sheinwold's column, but West muffed his chance."

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two spades. Your hand should be worth three tricks at spades, but may be worthless at no trump. You expect your partner to pass you at two spades, and you should be better off there than your partner would be at 1-no trump.

Meeting June 3

adv. for pms. fri may 29 $

Today is Friday, May 29th, the 149th day of 1970 with 216 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury and Saturn. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1453 Constantinople, capital of the Byzantine Empire, was captured by the Turks. Some historians said it marked the end of the Middle Ages.

In 1790 Rhode Island became the last of the 13 original States to ratify the U.S. Constitution.

In 1868 Gen. Ulysses S. Grant accepted the Republican nomination for President and issued the statement "Let us have peace."

In 1953 Sir Edmund Hillary of New Zealand became the first person to reach the top of Mt. Everest.

A thought for the day: President John F. Kennedy said, "Let the word go forth from this time and place that the torch has passed to a new generation of Americans."

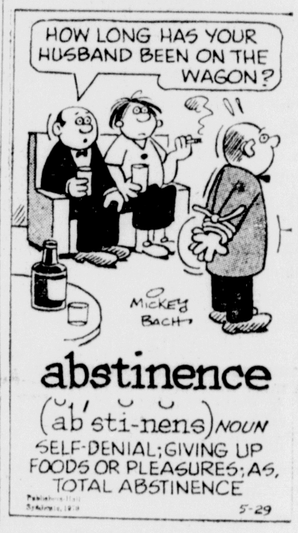

Music Offered In Summer Session

The Dixie School District will offer a music program in its regular summer school program this year.

The district's music director, Joseph S. Curatilo, said the five week course at Vallecito Junior High School from June 2 to July 18 from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Monday through Friday will conclude with a week at Camp Cazadero in Mendocino County.

Band and chorus classes are already full, he said, but there are still ten openings in the orchestra. Registration is available for any fifth, sixth or seventh grade students on a first come, first serve basis, he said.

1. Notice is Hereby Given That The Kentfield School District will receive bids for the furnishing of all tools, machinery, equipment, apparatus, facilities, labor, and materials necessary to perform work in connection with the maintenance of grounds at the three schools in the District for a period of three consecutive years, beginning July 1, 1970, with an alternate bid for a one year period commencing on July 1, 1970.

2. Each bid to be in accordance with the Specifications now available at the District Office, 699 Sir Francis Drake Blvd., Kentfield, California, where same may be examined and copies obtained.

3. Each bid shall be made on a form to be obtained at the District Office, and must be accompanied by a certified check, cash, or satisfactory bidder's bond in the amount of at least ten (10%) percent of the amount of said bid and enclosed in the same envelope made payable to the order of the Kentfield School District, and shall be filed with the Secretary of the Board on or before Friday, June 5, 1970, and will be opened in public at or about 5:00 p.m. of that day in the District Office, 699 Sir Francis Drake Blvd., Kentfield, Calif.

4. If the bidder to whom the contract is awarded shall, within five (5) days after receipt of the contract, fail or neglect to enter into the contract, the clerk of said Board shall cash the check filed by such bidder and hold same subject to the order of said Board as agreed as liquidated damages and not as a penalty for such failure or neglect, it being expressly stipulated by and between all parties concerned that it would be impracticable and extremely difficult from the nature of the case to fix the actual damages sustained by said District as the result of such failure or neglect.

5. If the District requires, the successful bidder shall furnish a bond satisfactory to the owner for the faithful performance of the contract, said bond to be in an amount of not less than one hundred percent (100%) of the amount of the proposal. The successful bidder shall also furnish a satisfactory bond securing the claims of persons employed by the contractor, and the claims of persons who furnish materials, supplies, or equipment used or consumed by the Contractor in performance of the work, said bond to be in an amount of not less than fifty percent (50%) of the amount of the proposal.

6. The Governing Board reserves the right to be sole judge of the merit and suitability of each proposal.

7. The Governing Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive any informality in the bidding.

Nader To Study State Land Use

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California's land use will be the next target of consumer crusader Ralph Nader and a 17-man student task force.

The group will study governmental and private land use policies this summer and come up with recommendations for the best use of the state's "precious resource," Nader told a news conference Thursday.

He said the study, estimated to cost between $15,000 and $20,000 will be conducted by economics and law students assisted by a biologist, two journalists and economists and a specialist in pesticides. Heading the group is Robert Fellmeth, 24, of Sacramento.

Funds for the project, Nader said, will be from as yet unspecified donations and grants.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Aging Not A Disease; Can Be Slowed With Proper Actions

Aging is not a disease, but a natural process that proceeds more rapidly in some than others. In general, those with good health live longer. All living organisms undergo changes from maturity onward.

Barring accidents and cancer, death is a function of age.

A report on the health and activities of Russian citizens over 80 appeared in a recent issue of Geriatric Focus.

WOMEN COMPRISED 75 per cent of those studied. This was attributed not only to the greater female life expectancy, but to the millions of Russian men who died during two world wars.

Interestingly, only 52.6 per cent of the very old people live in the country, even though 70 per cent of the Russians born in the last century spent most of their lives in rural areas. Many oldsters have migrated to the cities.

WHAT FACTORS were responsible for their longevity? Soviet researchers found that longevity was attained mainly by people with innate good health and superior adaptive and regulatory capacities. Those over 90 had fewer illnesses than those in the 80 to 89 group. Most of the women had had large families (6 to 7 children).

It was no coincidence that longevity in rural inhabitants was more common among those who started to work in their early teens and still had the capacity to work. In other words, they retained the mode of life developed in earlier years.

Morale also was important. The maintenance of a high level of activity and creativity in old age must be stressed. In this study, heredity was not important.

ACCORDING TO STILL another project, work satisfaction and happiness were important considerations in longevity predictions. As a rule, senior citizens attribute their long lives to a variety of conflicting factors, but those mentioned previously usually head the list.

It also helps to maintain a sense of humor and a cheerful disposition. Moderation in all things also is important.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

ITCHING, NEPHRITIS

P. N. writes: Does nephritis cause the skin to itch constantly? Mine never did until this kidney disorder developed.

REPLY

Itching is not a common symptom in nephritis but it has been known to occur. There are many other causes of itching and these are discussed in our leaflet which can be obtained by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

BE PATIENT

M. E. writes: We were married eight months ago and I'm not pregnant yet. Do you think my husband and I should have sterility tests made?

REPLY

Not yet. Most physicians suggest that couples wait two years before having these tests made. There is no harm in having the examinations to satisfy your curiosity. Your husband should be tested first.

MUM'S THE WORD

W. B. writes: What is a silent gallbladder?

REPLY

Gallbladders are not noisy. I assume you refer to a gallbladder that contains stones, but is causing no symptoms. This is usually discovered when X-rays of the abdomen are taken for other reasons.

BROKEN HEART

Y. L. writes: Can a heart literally break?

REPLY

Yes, but not from unrequited love. An extensive heart attack may leave the cardiac muscle so soft that it breaks open.

Today's Health Hint—The person who is allergic to insect bites should be desensitized.

Art Forms Of The Freeway

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Its designer must have loved it as a child. But all grown up, there are few kind words anyone could find to say about the looks of a freeway.

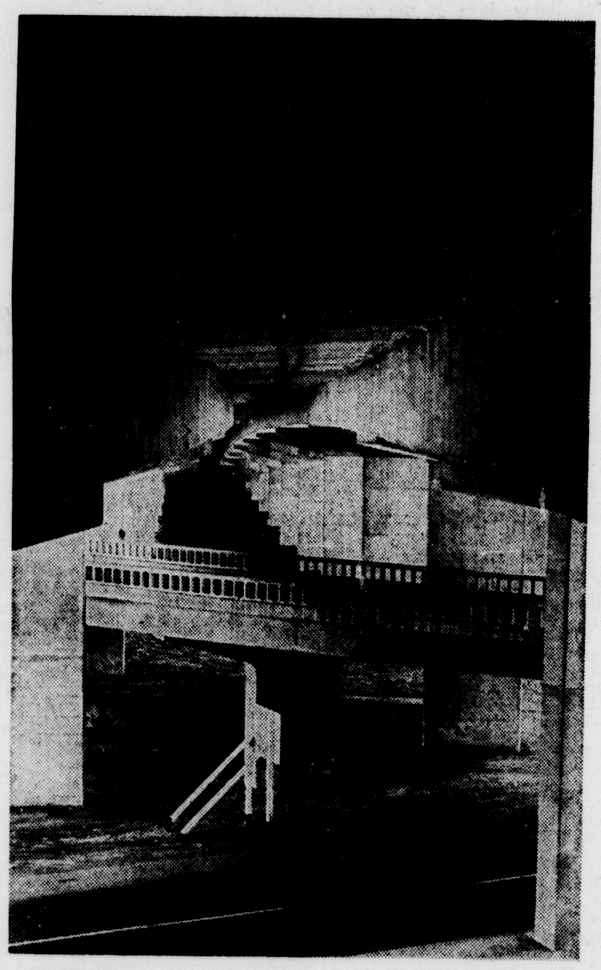

Aesthetically, a freeway is a monstrosity, a blight on the flow of the landscape and a ribbon of visual pollution. Admittedly, it is necessary to contemporary life. But beautiful, a freeway is not.

Highway 101 through Marin is no exception — at least the part most of us see as we approach it or are able to precieve through the congestion and exhausts of the cars ahead. But even this bona fide eyesore can have its moments. Beauty, indeed, is in the eye of the beholder and you just have to look at this freeway from the right perspective.

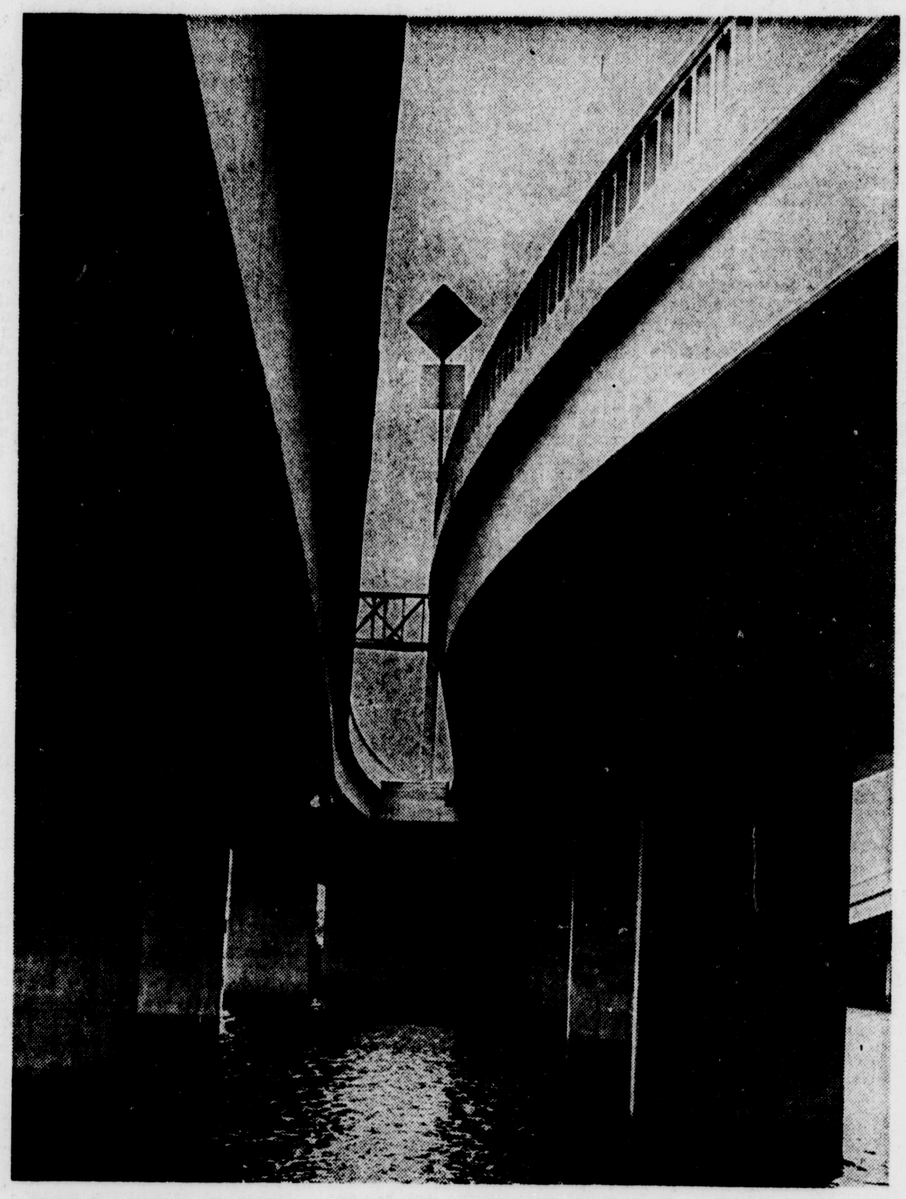

We aren't saying it's easy. Risking life and limb and slogging through much is part of the game. And as this probably isn't your idea of a fun-filled afternoon, we offer this opportunity to discover a freeway's beautiful soul, vicariously, through these photographs by Alfred Arn. His discriminating and artistic eye has obviously caught the element Highway 101's designer saw and loved in it all the time.

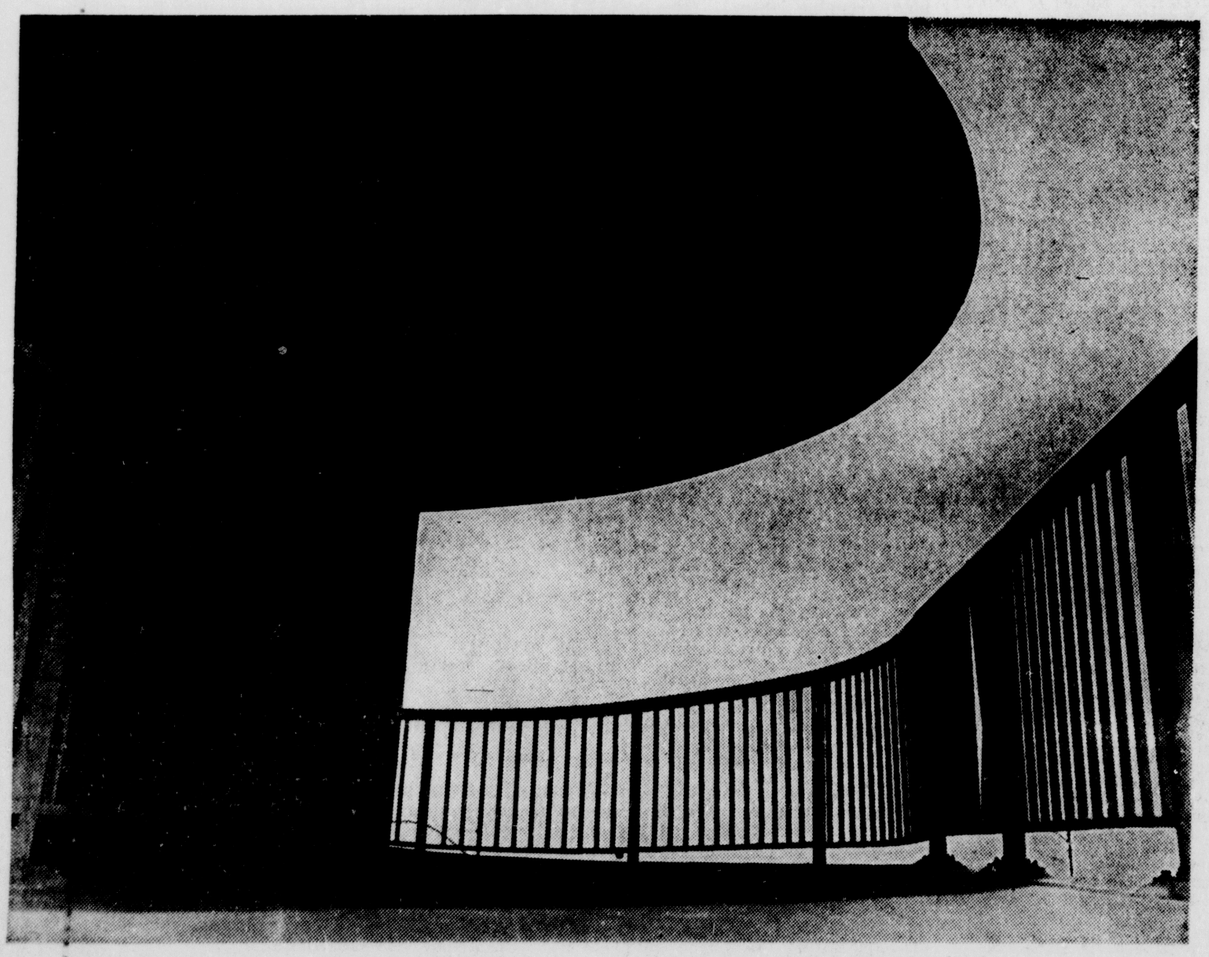

NATURAL FRAMING —As though provided with its own sedate picture frame, the Marin Landscape rests comfortably enclosed by a section of the freeway's railing.

UNDERSIDE —An entirely different feeling about freeways is felt by looking at structure and line from the bottom side.

POWER AND GRACE — Massive pillars and slow arcs cut dramatically into water and sky in this study of the Greenbrae overpass which reveals the flowing strength a freeway has when its design is exposed from the proper angle.

CURVES AND LINES — The ever-changing geometry of Highway 101 is impressively revealed when isolated in a simple section such as this part of the Corte Madera pedestrian overpass.

CHANGE OF EMPHASIS — A blur of form is all that is visible of the usual hard lines of the Corte Madera overpass as it is shot out of focus behind the crisp network of steel fencing which lines the freeway.

Officers Face Counts In Vietnam

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Two officers face charges of attempted murder in connection with a shooting incident last year in South Vietnam's Mekong Delta.

The Army accused Capt. Vincent N. Hartmann, 34, of Scranton, Pa., and 1st Lt. Robert G. Lee Jr., 22, of Springfield, Mo., Thursday of "ordering members of their command to fire into buildings used for human habitation on or about June 15, 1969." They were then with the 9th Infantry Division.

The maximum penalty for attempted murder is 20 years.

Col. Charles C. Thebaud, commander of the Ft. Benning Army Infantry School Brigade, to which the men are now assigned, has ordered a grand jury type investigation to determine whether the two officers should be tried by court-martial.

The alleged shooting incident has been under investigation since last fall. Army sources acknowledged it was brought to the Army's attention by Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif.

Van Deerlin informed the Army that a captain in the Medical Corps told him of an infantry company being ordered to use a Vietnamese village for target practice.

An urgent message for Marin Republicans!

One Man...Above All

"Over the past ten years, you have entrusted us to serve you and our party in various leadership capacities. Day in and day out, we have planned, organized, walked precincts, solicited funds and worked to build our party and the principles it represents.

This experience has taught us to know and to respect Republican candidates whose views embrace the entire spectrum of opinion. Our everyday involvement has given us important knowledge as to those who helped; those who hindered; and those who simply weren't interested enough to contribute time, energy or effort.

Every four years, all of us are asked to choose a man to represent our views in the State Senate. Those of us who have been priviledged to give some direction to Republican activities in Marin County would be remiss if we did not take a positive stand when such a critical selection is upon us. Now is that time. And we dare not pick the wrong man.

Based on our experience, we believe it is essential to respectfully suggest that one man – above all, has genuinely demonstrated those Republican qualities for which we've worked throughout the years. More importantly, that one man will honestly represent your ideas and ideals consistent with your Republican philosophy."

We urge you to vote for Don Pinkerton for State Senate. He merits your confidence.

Nudity Suspect Denies Charges

John Edwin Hardcastle, 25, of Bolinas, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to charges of possessing marijuana, being under the influence of drugs and disturbing the peace. A preliminary hearing was set for June 23.

Hardcastle was arrested April 26 in Bolinas when an off-duty deputy sheriff chased him down Overlook Road and cornered him in a backyard. The deputy said that Hardcastle, who was nude, had gone up to three girls and tried to embrace them.

He had a marijuana cigarette wedged between his fingers, the deputy said.

Gas Leak Closes Frontage Road In San Rafael

A gas main leak on Francisco Boulevard in San Rafael rerouted traffic for nine hours yesterday and today as Pacific Gas and Electric Co. workmen labored to plug the leak.

The leak caused the San Rafael Fire Department to close Francisco between Hoag and Medway streets from 4 p.m. yesterday until 1 a.m. today, Battalion Chief Robert Marcucci said today.

He said there was no imminent danger from the breach in the four-inch cast iron gas main in front of the Bermuda Palms Motel because the light gas was dispersed by the wind.

Traffic on adjoining Highway 101 was not disrupted, Marcucci said.

One fire unit stood by throughout the repair, he said.

Moonport Staff Cutback Ordered

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The moonport work force is being cut by 500 to 1,000 more persons and the space agency says additional reductions are possible this summer because of government spending cutbacks.

The space agency reported the new reductions Thursday and said the employment at the Kennedy Space Center by July 1 will range from 16,500 to 17,000. The work level now is 17,500.

"The center and its contractors will continue to review future manpower requirements and a determination on the size of the work force will be made by Sept. 1, 1970," the agency said.

Grant Received For Landscaping

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Bay Area Rapid Transit District has received a $339,500 federal grant to aid five BART landscaping projects.

Three of the projects are in downtown Oakland, Albany and on the Berkeley-Richmond Line. The others are located on the Southern Alameda County Line.

BART officials made the announcement Thursday following confirmation of the grant from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development in Washington, D.C.

Meet the man on the right.

ED REINECKE

...the doing-est Lt. Governor California's ever had!

In some states Lt. Governor is just a position. In California it's a job.

The toughest job there is, next to Governor itself.

That's why when Governor Reagan had to choose a man for Lt. Governor he knew he'd have to choose an extraordinary man.

He chose Ed Reinecke.

A Businessman. An Engineer. A Congressman. An Administrator.
A man with a remarkable record of achievement.

Since his appointment Ed Reinecke's job has been expanded to where his responsibilities are greater than any other Lt. Governor in the United States.

He actively serves in 27 areas of responsibility—every one of them vitally important to the people of California:

President of State Senate • Governor's Cabinet • Regent, University of California • Trustee, California State Colleges • Chairman, Governor's Task Force on Narcotics Enforcement • Chairman, Commission of the Californias • Chairman, California Bicentennial Celebration Commission • California Disaster Council • Commission on Interstate Cooperation • Reciprocity Commission • State Lands Commission • Chairman, Interagency Council on Ocean Resources • Governor's Flood Task Force • Chairman, Environmental Policy Committee • Governor's 1970 Summer Job Campaign for Youth • Chairman, State Electronic Data Policy Committee • Office of Management Services • Intra-State Policy Advisory Committee, National Demonstration Program • Environmental Quality Study Council • Office of Intergovernmental Management • Council on Intergovernmental Relations • Intergovernmental Board on Electronic Data Processing • Model Cities Liaison Group • Model Cities Advisory Committee • California Public Service Education and Training Advisory Council • Intergovernmental Policy Advisory Committee • Intergovernmental Technical Advisory Committee

Remember. The Number 2 job in the Number 1 state calls for a doer. It calls for Ed Reinecke. Again.

So when you walk into that voting booth—make sure.

Make doubly sure.

Reagan and Reinecke.

Redwood, Petaluma Bow In Tourney Of Champs

FORCE OUT — Petaluma's Kurt Jastrow (1) was forced out at second base by St. Elizabeth shortstop Randy Vegsay on this double play attempt in opening round of Tournament of Champions yesterday.

Richmond, St. Liz Advance

By DAVID EINSTEIN

Darrell Dickens, the Alameda League's best pitcher two years in a row, steamed his fastball past the Redwood Giants and with the help of Mike Harris' timely hitting brought Richmond a 6-2 victory last night in the first round of the Redwood High School Baseball Tournament of Champions at Albert Park, San Rafael.

Tournament favorite St. Elizabeth of Oakland blasted Petaluma, 8-1 in an earlier game behind the three-hit pitching of Chuck Fross and home runs by Wilner Ash and Charlie Dyson.

In other first round games, Alan Brown tossed a one-hitter, outdueling Dennis Eckersley as Antoich defeated Washington of Fremont, 1-0, and Joel Elderkin belted a three-run homer in the last inning to give San Lorenzo a 4-1 win over Oakland.

ALL-STAR

Dickens, who made the all-TOC team last year when Richmond placed third, was never really bothered as he pitched the Oilers past the Giants of Larkspur and into a second round confrontation with St. Elizabeth scheduled for tonight at 8. Only once did he experience any difficulty, in the fifth when the Giants got both their runs.

But after Charlie Flynn scored on second baseman Edgar Dillon's error, and Kevin Ward came home on Pete Cooney's sacrifice fly, Dickens struck out Frank Pomilia and Tom Wickert, and coasted the rest of the way.

Harris, whose broken bat single in the first inning scored Gary Knuckles and Jaime Duzon, lashed a run-scoring triple in the sixth, and then came home on a ground out to make the score 5-2.

VALIANT EFFORT

Roger Smith pitched valiantly for Redwood, matching Dickens in strikeouts with 10, and walks with three.

St. Elizabeth and Petaluma were tied at 1-1 until the bottom of the fifth when Ash unloaded a tremendous homer 400 feet to left-center, which accounted for two runs.

The Trojans, who got their run in the fourth when Walt Sweeney walked, stole second and came home on pitcher Dave Adams' single, otherwise were unable to touch Fross. Working deliberately and quickly, he limited them to only three singles, striking out six in the process.

Redwood and Petaluma will meet today at 4 p.m. In other second round games, Washington goes against Oakland at 2 p.m., and San Lorenzo plays Antoich at 6 p.m.

Yesterday's box scores on page 34.

HE'S SAFE — Walt Sweeney kicked up a lot of dust as he stole second base and later scored for Petaluma in losing effort against St. Elizabeth's at Albert Park in San Rafael yesterday afternoon. Waiting for tardy throw is second baseman Jim Thomas. Petaluma meets Redwood in a tournament consolation bracket game this afternoon. (Independent Journal photos by Alfred Arn)

Fastest 500 Ever

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The fastest field in more than half a century of auto racing at Indianapolis is awaiting the starter's flag Saturday in the 54th 500-mile race at the Indy Speedway.

The 33 cars that qualified in two weekend of trials averaged 165.375 miles an hour. Al Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., leads the pack with a 170.221 average for his four qualifying turns around the 2 ½-mile oval. For this Unser, brother of the 1968 race winner, earned the pole position and the favorite's tag along with three-time Indianapolis winner A. J. Foyt Jr., Houston, Tex. Foyt qualified No. 3.

Besides Bobby Unser, also of Albuquerque, and Foyt, one other former winner is in this year's field — Mario Andretti, the 1969 champ from Nazareth, Pa.

Andretti holds the record for running the race, 156.867 miles an hour.

A purse expected to top $825,000 will be divided Sunday night at the traditional victory dinner. Last year drivers and owners split $802,127 with Andretti and Anthony Granatelli earning $206,727.

The race is scheduled to start at 9 a.m., PDT. Official standings won't be posted until 8 a.m. Sunday.

Joining Al Unser in the first row are Foyt and Johnny Rutherford of Fort Worth, Tex. The 32-year-old Rutherford came from nowhere to capture the slot between Unser and Foyt at the head of the 11 rows of racing machines. His average was 170.213, just a shade behind the pole sitter.

The slowest car in the field, driven by Jim McElreath, qualified with a 166.821 average.

The Speedway has recorded 58 deaths in the years of the 500 and also counting the pre-500 races of 1909-10. The toll of 34 drivers, 14 mechanics, 9 spectators and one Speedway guard arose from accidents during the race itself as well as in the month of preliminaries and practice preceding the Memorial Day classic. There has been no fatal accident this year. New Zealander Denis Hulme was prevented from competing after suffering burns on his hands in an accident during practice.

Rains Hit Speedway

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Rain soaked the huge Indianapolis Motor Speedway grounds Friday, but the sloping asphalt track drains quickly and may be ready for a scheduled noon EDT start of the 54th 500-mile race Saturday if threatening weather improves.

The speedway has had fantastic luck with weather since the first 500 was run in 1911. Only six times has rain been a significant factor.

The 1915 race was postponed from Saturday, May 29, to Monday, May 31. The rain date this year is Sunday because there are fewer objections to Sunday sports events.

The 1926 race was stopped by rain at 400 miles. Anything over 250 miles is called a complete race and is not restarted.

The start of the 1931 race was delayed more than an hour, then run to completion.

Rain stopped the 1950 race at 345 miles, with leader Johnnie Parsons declared the winner.

In 1954, a freak whirlwind and bucketful of rain hit one car, that of Pat O'Conner, on the southeast turn and caused him to wreck. The race continued to completion.

The 1967 race was stopped by a downpour after 18 laps and restarted the next day with the cars in single file in the order they held when the rain came.

Fox Finds Right Combo For Giants

PITTSBURGH (AP) — New San Francisco Giants' manager Charlie Fox says he plans no changes while beginning his first trip with the club tonight against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Fox earlier indicated he would wait until conclusion of the home stand before thinking about lineup switches. But the skipper was rewarded with a 4-1 record in his first five games as a major league manager.

"We're going pretty good, so why change?" Fox asked following Thursday's 4-3 win over the Los Angeles Dodgers. Dick Dietz's homer off reliever Jim Brewer's second pitch in the bottom of the ninth led the way.

"The only thing we'll do different is get Willie McCovey back in the lineup as soon as possible and place Mike McCormick in the starting rotation until Manuel Puente feels better."

McCovey would be a welcome addition tonight against hard-throwing southpaw Bob Veale, 3-4. The Giants will counter with Rich Robertson, 4-4, who is 2-0 against Pittsburgh, including his only major league shutout.

"I thought I could play today," McCovey explained after Thursday's win. "But my hamstring tightened when I started loosening up. I hope to play Friday, but I'll have to wait until just before the game."

Los Angeles pulled into a 3-3 tie off Gaylord Perry, 7-5, in the top of the ninth on Willie Crawford's one-out double and a run-scoring single by Jim Lefebvre.

Reliever Joe Moeller held the Giants scoreless in the seventh and eighth, but was lifted for a pinch-batter in the ninth.

Brewer, 0-1, threw a ball on his first pitch, and the second went sailing over the screen in left-center for Dietz's 10th homer and a 2-1 Giants series victory.

"I didn't think I hit the ball good enough," said Dietz, "but there's a pretty good power alley in left-center here, and that's where the ball went."

Perry retired the side in four of the first five innings, but the Dodgers bunched four of their eight hits for two runs in the third.

Lefebvre and Tom Haller opened with singles, and Don Sutton sacrificed. Von Joshua's grounder scored Lefebvre, and Haller raced home on Maury Wills' high one-hop single to shortstop.

Sutton entered the sixth with a one-hitter and struck out Perry for his 12th straight out. Bobby Bonds then belted a 3-2 pitch for his ninth homer. Ron Hunt singled and Ken Henderson hammered a 425-foot homer, his ninth.

Commissioner Says Option System Bad

NEW YORK (AP) — Curt Flood's $3 million antitrust suit against baseball started a weekend recess today with Chub Feeney, president of the National League, preparing to take the witness stand next.

Feeney will testify Monday when the trial moves into its eighth day.

Commissioner Bowie Kuhn completed his testimony Thursday and repeated an earlier stand that adoption of pro football's option system would be "very damaging" because of the possibility of tampering.

Pro football allows a player to become a free agent after playing out an option season. He is free to make his own deal once his option lapses and should he sign with another team, his old club receives another player as compensation.

Jay Topkis, one of Flood's attorneys, asked Kuhn why the system could not be adapted to baseball.

"It is inevitable," said Kuhn, "that any system such as professional football uses has the danger of tampering. I want baseball to be free of any damage."

Flood, former St. Louis outfielder who refused to report to Philadelphia after being traded last winter, is challenging baseball's reserve system which binds a player to one club for life unless he is traded, sold or released.

Kuhn also testified that collective bargaining between players and owners was the best way to affect changes in the reserve system that Flood is challenging.

The commissioner said one of the purposes of the reserve system was to equalize competiton. Baseball maintains that without such a system, rich clubs could lure all the game's stars and wipe out poorer teams.

"It hasn't been perfect," said Kuhn, "but it has moved the game over-all in that direction.

Topkis pointed out that four teams, the New York Yankees, St. Louis Cardinals, Brooklyn-Los Angeles Dodgers and New York-San Francisco Giants had won a total of 63 pennants in the last 50 years. Kuhn replied that "in the last decade the concentration of winners has diminished."

Ash, Richey Win In Paris

PARIS (AP) — Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., the only U.S. men remaining in the men's singles, advanced to the fourth round of the French Open tennis tournament Friday with straight set victories.

Ashe, seeking tennis' grand slam with the Australian title already his, held off veteran Nicola. Pietrangeli of Italy 8-6, 6-4 in intermittent rain at center court.

Richey had little trouble with Patricio Rodriguez, beating the Chilean 6-2, 6-2, 6-0.

Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., seeded No. 2 among the women, ousted Jill Cooper of Britain 6-2, 6-2 in a second round match.

Football Record

NEW YORK (UPI)—Professional football attendance in 1969 rose to an all-time high of 12,567,501—an average of 47,246 for every game played.

Ground-Breaker

NEW YORK (UPI)—When Tony Jacklin won the British Open golf championship in 1969, he became the first Briton since 1951 to capture the prestigious title.

Five-Timer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mike Bonallack, Essex England, has won the British Amateur golf championship five times.

Stanford, Cal Underclassmen On All-Pac 8

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pete Duncan of Washington State, who led the Pacific-8 in batting with a .423 average this season, is one of eight seniors chosen to the all-conference team.

The only underclassmen on the team selected by the coaches are pitcher Steve Dunning of Stanford and outfielder Jim Corcoran of California, both juniors, and Stanford's freshman catcher Bob Reece.

Other first team selections announced Thursday were pitcher Breat Strom of Southern Cal, infielders Bob Beall of Oregon State, Roger Schiewe of Oregon, Cal Meier of USC and Dan Stoligrosz of USC, and outfielders Steve Evert of WSU and Phil Bushman of Oregon.

The second team is made up of pitchers Jim Barr of USC and Murray Gage-Cole of WSU, catcher Jim Dumont of Washington, infielders Mike Nelson of Stanford, Frank Alfano of USC, Colby Howe of Oregon, Ralph Punaro of UCLA and Dave Wiggins of OSU, and outfielders John Rankin of WSU, Bob Petretta of UCLA and Dave Kingman of USC.

Michigan State's 1970 football team faces rugged assignments the first three Saturdays in October. The Spartans play Notre Dame, Ohio State and Michigan in succession.

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—A rematch of a photo finish 440-yard relay race of last weekend is one of the many top events coming up in tomorrow's Kennedy Games at the University of California starting at 12:30 p.m.

The University of Texas-El Paso team and UCLA's foursome both were timed in 39.4 seconds the top mark in the track world this year, last Saturday at the Califilfornia Relays at Modesto. UTEP was declared the winner.

A dozen current or past world record holders are in the Kennedy Games field including such Olympic heroes as Randy Matson in the shot put, Bob Beamon in the long jump and Willie Davenport in the hurdles.

Unranked Winners

NEW YOR K(UPI)—Only two teams not ranked in the top 10 at the end of the regular season have captured NCAA basketball champsionships—California in 1959 and City College of New York in 1950.

Star playmaker of Michigan State's 1969-70 basketball team was 5-foot-5 guard Gary Ganakas, son of the head Sartan coach, Gus Ganakas.

Rookie New Hero As A's Top Angels

OAKLAND (AP) — After his performance against the California Angels, Tony La Russa today is the Oakland Athletics newest hero. "And that should surprise some people," he says.

Fans, sportswriters and even some A's players were askance when the second baseman was called up last week from the A's Iowa farm club, where he was hitting a good — but uninspiring — .250.

He had been bouncing between the minors and major league clubs for many years. And though he spent half the 1969 season in an A's uniform, he only got to the plate eight times.

But Thursday night, La Russa, 25, proved he could come through in a clutch by slapping a seventh inning double into left field, knocking in two men and giving the A's a 2-0 victory over the Angels.

Coach John McNamara, noting La Russa's key hit and his handling of second base during the game, said, "He's my second baseman as long as he continues to do the job."

The A's begin a three-game series on their home field with the Cleveland Indians tonight.

La Russa's key double followed an infield hit by Felipe Alou and an intentional walk to Frank Fernandez.

The hit made a three-time loser of Rudy May who fashioned nine strikeouts and permitted seven hits in his eight inning stint. The win went to Chuck Dobson, now 5-3.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

In bowling, as in golf, keeping the head down is essential. Many bowlers have a tendency to look too quickly at the pins after releasing the ball. So they often miss the spot and come up too quickly.

Fenway Usher Dies On Job

BOSTON (AP) — Walter Gletsmann, 55, of Malden, Mass., an usher at Fenway Park for 30 years, was fatally stricken Tuesday night while helping to remove the tarpaulin from the field prior to resumption of a rain-delayed game between the Boston Red Sox and the Washington Senators.

Gleitsmann collapsed near home plate, and trainers of both teams rushed out to aid him along with doctors and other personnel.

He was given mouth-to-mouth respiration and heart massage for several minutes, then carried off the field on a stretcher and taken to a hospital. He died shortly after arrival.

FISH AND GAME

Publication Recalls The First 100 Years

By AL GIDDINGS

This being called the centennial year for the Fish and Game Department it might be interesting to give you some facts about the history of fish and game in California, from Outdoor California, a state publication.

IN 1851, the state enacted the first law specifically dealing with fish and game matters. This concerned the property rights of persons planting oysters.

In 1852, the first California game law was enacted for 12 counties. It protected elk, antelope, deer, quail, mallard and wood ducks for six months of the year. Also passed was the first law protecting slamon runs. Enforcement was the responsibility of local authorities.

In 1854, the game laws were extended to all the counties.

IN 1861 closed seasons for trout were established.

In 1870, the Board of Fish Commissioners, forerunner of the Fish and Game Commission, was established to provide for the restoration and preservation of fish in California waters. California's three "Fish Commissioners" were appointed by the governor, receiving no compensation, but the legislature appropriated $5,000 to the board for two years operation. A fish ladder was built on a tributary to the Truckee River.

1871 was the year of the first fish importation: About 20,000 shad were planted in the Sacramento River; carp were also imported and planted; and two game wardens were hired to patrol the San Francisco Bay Area and the Lake Tahoe area.

In 1879 striped bass were introduced from New Jersey and planted at Carquinez Strait.

In 1885, the first fish and game patrol boat, a 46-footer called the Governor Stoneman, was put into operation.

IN 1901, the patrol force reached 50 men, and the first bag limits were set: Deer-3 bucks; ducks and doves-50 each; quail-25 each. Night hunting was outlawed.

In 1907, the first hunting licenses were issued for $1. each and in 1913, the first angling license, also $1, was required for persons over 18 years. Sea otters were also put on the protected list.

In 1918, the U.S. Migratory Bird Treaty halted the sale of water fowl.

IN 1922, the last grizzly bear was reported shot in Tulare County.

IN 1951, the Division of Fish and Game was elevated to departmental status. Today the Department of Fish and Game works under the governor, the state legislature, the California Fish and Game Commission, now a five man unit, and the Secretary for Resources. The Department of Fish and Game employs about 1,300 men and women, including 210 wardens, who carry out the work of the department on a budget approximating $20,000,000. Since the DFG is a special fund department, none of this income is taken from the General Fund, but is derived from fishing and hunting license sales, California's share of the federal excise tax on sport hunting and fishing equipment, special use taxes on the commercial fishing industry, and 50 per cent of the fines monies from violations of the fish and game laws.

Agency To Join Houseboat Checks

I-J Special Report

PALO ALTO—The Regional Water Quality Control Board served notic e yesterday it intends to join Marin County's lengthy fight to clean up the Richardson Bay houseboat colony.

The board, disturbed over reports of dumping raw sewage and refuse from the crafts, set a public hearing for June 25 to decide whether to begin a crackdown and indicated it might take abatement action against polluting houseboats one by one if necessary.

The vote came during a discussion of possible prohibition of all waste discharges into Richardson Bay, Corte Madera Creek and San Rafael Bay.

Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows told of decade-old problems in controlling the sprawling colony, which he said has been referred to as a "nautical slum." He described the region as a scattering of "narrow moles, piers, docks, grounded hulks, shacks, floating barges and modern houseboats of the most comfortable design."

While new ordinanc es are regulating houseboat construction and the operation of marinas, Barrows said, efforts to encourage a wholesale cleanup and to provide sewers to houseboats in the area have failed.

He added, however, that an owner of one piece of offshore property on which some craft rested had agreed to build a new pier and provide sewerage, and Barrows believed this was a significant step toward full scale cleanup of the region — perhaps two years away.

Some board members favored moving faster, although Deputy Atty. Gen. Richard Thunen Jr. cautioned that abatement orders probably would be challenged in court and settlement of appeals could take longer than the county's hoped-for timetable for cleanup.

"If they want to appeal, let them appeal," said board member Sidney S. Lippow. "If they're breaking the law, let's go after them."

Barrows expressed hope the June 25 hearing would focus more public attention on the cleanup fight and "greatly aid us in getting action out of the property owners."

Meanwhile, action on the board's proposal to ban discharges, especially municipal wastes, into Richardson Bay and Corte Madera Creek and a bid by the state Department of Public Health to extend prohibition to San Rafael Bay also was postponed to June 25.

Spokesmen for sanitary agencies and other dischargers in the Corte Madera and Southern Marin regions said they didn't quarrel with the board's clean water objectives but asked for more time to study alternate discharge methods and financing solutions.

The purpose of the ban would be to enhance recreational use of the waterways and protect shellfishing, but John Jencks, consulting engineer to the San Rafael Sanitation District, said he saw no reason to prohibit discharges by that agency into San Rafael Bay. He said there was no evidence of defects in district sewage treatment.

William R. Seeger, general manager of the Marin Municipal Water District, told of efforts through his agency to consolidate sewage treatment in Southern Marin.

The board's staff has proposed August 1972 and December 1971 as "reasonable dates" for the award of contracts for facilities that would end discharges into Richardson Bay and Corte Madera Creek, respectively. Spokesmen for dischargers called the timetable unrealistic.

In another matter, the board, with concurrence from officials of the agencies, called upon the City of San Rafael and the San Rafael Sanitation District to construct facilities to stop entry of sewage into storm water systems by September 1972. An enabling bond issue of $1.2 million is on Tuesday's ballot.
